'Expert' Finds Pumpkin Is What It Cracks Up to Be

1. "Now children," says expert jack-o-lantern maker Lester Rosen, of Belmont apartments, "This is how we create our pumpkin-head. First we take out the seeds after cutting through the top."

2. "That wasn't hard at all. See how I've marked old Jack? It's really very easy. Hmmm. The eyes are—er—too fancy, so we'll just make 'em round and be done with it. There she goes."

3. "Ooops! Had a bit of a slip there. Nearly cut m'self. So with my eyes and nose neatly in place, we'll work on the teeth. Heh, heh. A jack-o-lantern has to have teeth neatly spaced—like so!"

4. "See, kids? There she is. Oh, you observe the little slip the knife made, do you? Hoped you hadn't noticed. Well, we'll just fix that up with a wee bit of doctoring here and there you won't detect."

5. "Begolies! Why couldn't I get some co-operation out of this pumpkinhead? Why didn't I buy two pumpkins? Now look what I've done. What am I going to do with it? And I call him a pumpkinhead!"

Chinese Reds Spur North Korean Rally

SEOUL, Tuesday, Oct. 31 (AP) — Resurgent Reds, reported unofficially to be bolstered by two Chinese Communist divisions, were on a counter-offensive today in Northeast Korea and fought savage defensive battles in the northwest.

In the northeast, where a U. S. spokesman acknowledged at least one Chinese Communist regiment was in action, the Reds stabbed within 30 miles of the east coast industrial center of Hamhung.

AP correspondent Ben Price quoted a captured North Korean officer as saying that two Chinese Communist divisions were in the encircling drive towards Hamhung. American advisers made no such identification of the two divisions, however, and an American Intelligence officer said he was skeptical.

In the northwest the British Commonwealth brigade had to fight street by street to capture the highway hub of Chongju on the main road to the North Korean city of Sinuiju. Then Americans swept through, ready to drive up that road. Other American forces are dug in near Kusong, 26 miles north of Chongju and 34 miles from the Manchurian border.

THE SOUTH KOREAN Second Army corps, operating on the right flank of Americans, attributed reverses of the past three days to the weight of fresh enemy troops. Second corps officers insisted many of those troops were Chinese.

"While the U. S. Eighth Army so far has declined to give official recognition to their claims, Second corps staff officers insist it is no token Chinese Red force which already has chewed up one of their divisions," said AP correspondent Jack MacBeth.

He quoted an American military advisor as saying there was

Five Youths Arrested As Mischief Makers Keep Police on Jump

Hallowe'eners brought eggs, pea shooters, water squirts, knives and firecrackers into play last night to give Pottstown one of its worst Mischief Nights in recent years.

Five boys, one of whom later admitted helping to break windows in the Rupert school over the weekend, were arrested on Queen street by Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy and Patrolman Joseph Thees.

The youngsters were arrested between Rowland and Mt. Vernon streets after residents had telephoned numerous complaints to borough hall.

They were ordered to appear at borough hall at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with their parents. Burgess William A. Griffith will be in charge of their hearing.

RESIDENTS OF West Seventh street were faced with a barrage of firecrackers as mischief makers roamed the streets. Police were unable to locate the Hallowe'eners when they patrolled the section.

On Diamond street, clotheslines were slashed, and on Walnut street, unwary motorists had their tires flattened.

Early in the evening, West ward pranksters plastered the front of Frank B. Leighton's home at 54 Chestnut street with eggs. Police failed to catch the Hallowe'eners who dived into

Congressman McConnell To Address Kiwanis Club

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr., congressman from the 16th Pennsylvania district, will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting tonight. McConnell will speak to the group in the Elks' home at 6:30 o'clock. His topic will be "A Look at the Washington Scene."

Arrangements for the meeting were made by the Public Affairs committee, Francis Hunsberger, chairman.

Burgess Picks Up the Tab, But John Q. Pays $192.50

The Pottstown taxpayer has for years been footing the bill for a wide variety of items, ranging from paving stones to pencils. But not until yesterday was it learned that good old John Q. may be called upon to subsidize 130 orders of the following meal:

Fresh Shrimp Cocktail Hearts of Celery
 Spanish and Ripe Olives
 Fluffy Buttered Potatoes Fresh Green Peas
 Roast Turkey
 Giblet Gravy Fresh Lima Beans
 Cranberry Sauce Dinner Rolls
 Hearts of Lettuce with Russian Dressing
 Mints Coffee Nuts

This meal was eaten by members of the Montgomery County Boroughs association at its meeting Thursday night in the Eagles home, as "guests" of Burgess

William A. Griffith, vice president of the organization. The Burgess rose at the association's September meeting in Norristown to invite the members to be his guests at the October meeting. They accepted. He went ahead and made arrangements for the meal.

THE MEAL COST $2.25 a plate. It was served by Frank Hartenstein, Pottstown caterer. It was rated by members as the most sumptuous meal that the association ever had been served.

Since the Burgess had placed an order with Hartenstein for 130 meals, the total catering bill was $292.50. Of this, Pottstown taxpayers will be expected to pay $192.50.

Why the taxpayers are faced with a bill of exactly $192.50 is a long story (with a note of mystery in it) that begins with the association's custom of having each eating member contribute $1 toward what he eats at the dinner meeting.

There were 115 members attending the Pottstown meeting. At meal's end, the Burgess said that three of the 20 Pottstown members present would collect the 115 dollar bills.

They circulated among the 115 diners and brought back the dollar bills. That is where the note of mystery came in. For when the money had been counted, and re-counted, it was found that there was only $100 in the till.

One association member, denying emphatically that there are 15 destitute members in the organization, suggested the possibility that there might have been 15 officials

Heat Will Slow Down Gunners Tomorrow

Pottstown area hunters will welcome the small game season with a shotgun cannonade at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, but for many, the thrill of opening day will be tempered by unseasonably warm weather.

High temperatures are expected to make the gunners' faces as red as their coats and caps but should have little effect on the amount of game during the first few hours of the season. Toward noon, however, birds and rabbits are expected to be in cool places rather than in open fields.

Deputy Game Protector Richard Blair, 78 Warren street, said last night there are "quite a few rabbits and birds" in outlying areas.

"Will the warm weather slow up the game?" he was asked. "I don't think so," he replied, "about the only thing it should slow up is the hunters."

Few hunters, Blair pointed out, like to see butterflies and grasshoppers on opening day, but the unseasonably warm weather has brought them out.

He urged hunters to be careful of their dogs if the day is very warm. Few dogs have had enough exercise during pre-season running to get them in condition for a full day's run, he believed, and a few hours in the cool of the morning

News Tip 'Phoned In May Pays Off For Local Woman

Mrs. Leonard Wert, 456 West High street, received her reward yesterday for a telephone call she made to The Mercury the past May 24.

She reported hearing a rumor that Doeher-Jarvis corporation intended to expand its Pottstown operations. A check quickly showed that there was truth to the rumor but also showed that it was much too early for any final details of the expansion move.

Mercury readers were "tipped off" promptly to the impending development by an item in the All Around The Town column. Meanwhile, the news staff began the double job of waiting and digging.

When intentions became facts, a detailed news story was published the past Friday.

Mrs. Wert said, "As soon as I saw the story, I thought of my news tip."

So did the judges. Although a lot of telephone calls had gone over the wires since May, they ruled she was entitled to a prize just as much as is someone who reports an accident at 1 a. m. and sees it in the Mercury at 4 a. m.

She was awarded the $7 first prize.

SECOND PRIZE of $3 went to Joseph Pritch, Pottstown RD 1, who telephoned 2263 with a tip that Vaughan Knitting company employees were going on strike the next day.

Third prize of $2 went to Melvin Ezoff, 8 East High street, for a quick tip on the discovery of a Pottstown man's body in his truck, which was filled with

More Balmey Weather Forecast for Today

Pottstown's current season of Indian Summer, with its warm and mild breezes will continue today, the weatherman says. After a day in which the mercury shot up to 76 at 3 p. m., rising from an early morning 58 degrees, the forecast for today promises to be even warmer.

It will be pleasant and sunny today—and tomorrow—the forecasters said, with afternoon temperatures between 76 and 82 degrees.

Carson C. Potter Pays Top Price for Heifer

A polled Hereford heifer was sold yesterday at auction to Carson C. Potter, Wilson avenue and Burdett drive, for $11,000—highest price ever paid for that type of female.

The secretary-treasurer of the Lincoln Underwear Mills, South Evans and Water streets, bought the animal at the annual auction of A. G. Rolfe and Sons, of Poolesville, Md.

A Rolfe representative said the previous high for a polled (sheared) Hereford female was $10,700, bid last year in Denver, Colo.

Potter paid $9000 for another heifer auctioned at the sale on the Frederick, Md., fair grounds.

Woman Battles Blaze in Own Fashion, Then Calls Fire Company to Finish Job

Mrs. William D. Muthersbaugh, Squirrel Hollow road, Rattlesnake Hill, made a good try at extinguishing a fire by herself yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock when it broke out in the kitchen walls and chimney of her home.

After she smelled burning paint while walking through the kitchen, she did these things:

Located the fire; went into the cellar to turn off the electric current in case the fire was caused by wiring; filled a bucket; went out to get a hose, and went into the barn to get a ladder to reach the smoking kitchen loft.

Despite her efforts, the fire be-

Over 1500 Tots To Take Part in Hallowe'en Fete

Between 1500 and 2000 gaily dressed youngsters will cavort west on High street this evening competing for prizes in the second annual Hallowe'en parade sponsored by the Hallowe'en committee in co-operation with the borough Recreation commission.

At stake for the children will be cash awards for the vehicle division and merchandise certificates for the costumed divisions.

The parade will begin forming on High street between Washington and Adams streets promptly at 4:30 p. m., Francis Donnon, director of the Recreation commission, announced last night.

Any parade not in line by 5 p. m. will not be eligible for the prizes to be awarded in the 12 divisions, exclusive of bands. Judging for first, second and third will take place while the parade is forming, Donnon said.

The parade will move forward, led by the color guard and band of the Pottstown Senior High school promptly at 5:35 o'clock. It will proceed west on High street to York, with center traffic lanes open.

BEHIND THE SENIOR High school band will be two divisions of "funniest" costumes, one for children 11 and older, the other for youngsters ten and under. These will be followed by the band from West Pottsgrove High school.

Two divisions of "prettiest" costumed revelers will be ahead of the first division of vehicle paraders. By definition of the Recreation commission, "vehicle" is anything on wheels, Donnon said.

Vehicle paraders will be followed by two divisions of impersonators and the North Coventry High school band. Back of this band will be two divisions of original costumed youngsters, a division for bicycles, and the band from the St. Aloysius parochial school.

Two divisions of "nationality" costumes, the Pottstown Junior High school band and a division for vehicles will conclude the line of march.

Children will be helped into their various divisions by parade marshals under the direction of Chief Marshal Donald Goodnow, of the Pottstown Optimist club.

JUDGING OF costumes will be done by a committee from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, under the supervision of Anthony F. Rodgers.

Other local organizations which comprise the Pottstown Hallowe'en parade committee will have groups on hand to assist. The organizations and their committee chairmen include:

MISSING MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Autopsy to Be Conducted. In Death of F. A. Wigg Jr. On Road Near Obelisk

A 41-year-old Perkiomenville RD 1 man, missing from his home since Saturday night, was found dead in his automobile yesterday afternoon on a country road off Route 663 near Obelisk.

He was Frederick Arthur Wigg Jr., of near Obelisk, a maintenance man with the Apex Hosiery mill at Spring City. His body was discovered in his automobile parked on Fritz road, between Swamp Pike and Route 73 by Leroy Mutter, of Gilbertsville RD 1.

The exact cause of death remained unknown pending an autopsy today. Montgomery county Coroner Winslow J. Bantz said last night.

Mr. Wigg, in company with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Wigg Sr., his wife Angeline (D'Errico) and his two children, Doris Anne and Frederick, had at-

'Army' Blend Seems To Agree With Smoker

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 30 (AP)—What does it take to discourage a tobacco moocher? That's what an army recruiting sergeant is asking after he prepared this mixture for the moocher:

A small quantity of tobacco, five rubber bands, eight match heads, two loaves of finely clipped hair—one donated by a blond and one by a brunet, a teaspoonful of lint, a dash of pencil sharpenings, and the contents of the one shot-gun shell.

The moocher filled his pipe as usual, smoked merrily away—and returned two hours later for a refill.

Area Man Placed On Probation in Gun Battle With Brother

Clifford Eagle, 32, of Pottstown RD 3, who fired a rifle at his brother Saturday night, was given a probationary sentence last night after a hearing before Justice of the Peace William W. Rickert Jr., 34 East High street, Stowe.

Although magistrate's hearings are supposed to be in the public record, an attempt was made to keep Eagle's hearing secret. A reporter who arrived for the hearing at 7 o'clock was told Rickert "did not like his hearings in the paper."

He also was told the hearing would not be held "for an hour or two" because the principal parties were not available.

It later was learned Eagle and his wife were present for the hearing at 7 o'clock and the session was held shortly thereafter.

CONSTABLE JAMES Guadagno, arrested Eagle after he had fired the rifle at his brother, Sterling R. Eagle, Manatwiny road. He served a warrant, sworn out by a neighbor, Paul L. Bean, charging Eagle with reckless use of firearms and disorderly conduct.

Eagle's brother was not hurt by the rifle shot, but his right eye was closed during the fight. One of the provisions of Eagle's probation, it was disclosed, was that he pay his brother's medical expenses.

It was not learned whether Eagle's guns, which were confiscated by police were returned to him.

DINNER TAB — from various boroughs called suddenly to the telephone just as the collection was being taken.

WHEN THE MONEY was collected, it was reported, the burgess told the collectors to turn over the incomplete returns to J. Wayne Knause, chairman of borough council's finance committee and one of the ten Pottstown borough councilmen reported in attendance.

"Why turn it over to me?" Knause was reported as asking. "I had nothing to do with the arrangements. The burgess arranged this party."

Borough Secretary William Shaeffer then stepped into the breach. He was reported as saying: "Give it to me. I'll take care of it."

The incomplete returns were taken to borough hall. The caterer sent the bill for $292.50 to borough hall, presumably for approval by the finance committee and then borough council itself.

THIS WASN'T the first time that the borough has been asked to pick up part of the tab for an association meal, it was learned yesterday, although this was the first time that the borough had been asked to subsidize such a lavish meal.

In December of 1948, again as guests of Burgess Griffith, the association met in Pottstown. The meal was more in line with what other boroughs are asked to subsidize, costing $1.75 a plate, contrasted with this year's $2.25.

The 1948 dinner had 168 diners and 159 payers, since incomplete returns seem to be a chronic association problem. The total cost was $294. The borough was asked to pay $135—the difference between $294 and the $159 collected from the payers.

This bill was approved in routine fashion by borough council, which in 1948 had a large majority in Burgess Griffith's party.

The West ward had been hit all through the past week, moving gangs of boys broke windows, let air out of tires and scattered corn over the neighborhood.

It was reported wires had been strung across Union street between Warren and Adams street and that oil drums had been rolled on to the pavement. Police found no evidence of vandalism on their investigation.

MISSING MAN —

tended a supper in Keelor's Reformed church of Obelisk Saturday night.

FOLLOWING THE supper, Mr. Wigg excused himself from his family, saying he was going to a sale at Gilbertville to do the weekend shopping. He appeared in excellent spirits.

When he failed to return, it was learned, members of the family thought he might have been involved in a minor accident. But when he had not appeared by early Sunday morning, Pottstown police were notified, a member of the family said.

Mr. Wigg had been in good health, but Friday evening had complained of feeling dizzy.

The body was found yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock while Mutter was driving a wagon loaded with corn along the dirt road. Although the car had been there for some time, no one passing had observed anything amiss because the body was slumped on the right side of the front seat below the lower frame of the window.

Mutter was seated high enough on the corn-loaded wagon to see inside the automobile.

MUTTER PHONED Collegeville police at 4:05 p.m. The body was released to an East Greenville funeral director until an autopsy could be performed.

Mr. Wigg was born in England, the son of Frederick A. and Jane (Newrick) Wigg, and came to this country with his parents when still a small child. He lived in the Obelisk area for many years.

He was a member and a deacon of Keelor's Reformed church, and a member of the Pottstown Lodge 368, Loyal Order of Moose.

All services will be conducted privately and at the convenience of the family on Wednesday from a funeral home at 221 Main street, East Greenville, with the Rev. E. J. Talis, pastor of Keelor's Reformed church, officiating. Interment will be in Keelor's Union cemetery, Obelisk.

step toward fulfillment of the company's ten-year-old plan to move from South Hanover street.

At the time of the sale, some nearby residents hinted that the Good Wills must have had some assurance that they would be granted a special exception before buying the residential property.

Borough officials denied giving such assurance, pointing out that the company's assumption might have been based on the fact that the board of adjustment had granted a similar exception to Pottstown Aerie 626, Fraternal Order of Eagles, which took over the old Prince mansion at 636 High street.

The old Snyder mansion is in an area zoned for residences only, but by special exception, such organizations as lodges and fire companies may locate there.

ANOTHER REQUEST to be made at tonight's hearing is one by Mennonite Gospel mission, 306 North Charlotte street, to build a one-story (and basement) brick church, 45 by 60 feet, at an estimated cost of $25,000.

Other requests to be presented to the Board of Adjustment are: Clarence Reinert, 409 North Manatwiny street, to build a garage and apartment at the rear of his home; Bernice V. March, 437 Chestnut street, to alter/second floor for use as a private dancing school, and Joseph Cosumano, 540 West High street, to build two stores and two apartments at 372 High street.

Puerto Rican Rebels In Bloody Uprising Against U. S.; 23 Die

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 30 (P)—Anti-United States Nationalist rebels plunged Puerto Rico today into the worst uprising in the island's history. Police put the death toll at 23.

The rebels fired on the governor's palace in an apparent attempt to slay Gov. Luis Munoz Marin. Violence and arson exploded in another nine towns. A battle appeared shaping up in one town which was still in Nationalist hands late tonight.

Munoz told the nation in a broadcast that the uprising was a "conspiracy against democracy" helped by the Communists. He assured Puerto Ricans that the situation was well in hand but asked the people to be on the alert against new violence.

The worst immediate trouble spot was Jayuya, a small town of about 1500 in Central Puerto Rico. It is located in a valley surrounded by the island's highest mountains. There the Nationalists killed down a police station and killed all six policemen stationed there.

Police from neighboring towns were unable to get into Jayuya. A National Guard tank force was on its way there from nearby Arecibo. The armored outfit was expected to reach Jayuya tomorrow morning. It has orders from Munoz to regain control of the town.

THE NATIONALISTS are an extremist minority who demand complete independence of Puerto Rico from the United States. Munoz said they do not have more than 400 members all over the island.

Their leader is Pedro Albizu Campos. Police have surrounded his house in San Juan and his arrest is expected. Shots have been exchanged with Nationalists inside. Police have not tried to smash their way into the home. The authorities are determined to avoid all violence possible.

The police reports said the dead included 13 policemen, nine Nationalist rebels and one fireman. The reports came from these places:

San Juan: one policeman and four Nationalists killed in the firing on the palace.

Penuelas: one policeman and three Nationalists killed.

Borinquen: one policeman and one Nationalist killed.

Yaguajay: six policemen and one fireman killed.

Utudado: one fireman killed.

Arecibo: four policemen and one civilian killed.

Violence was also reported at Naranjito, Utudado Arroyo and Quebradillas but there were no fatalities reported from those places.

Hospital Worker Hurt When Auto Rams Tree

An attendant at the Veterans Administration hospital, Coatesville, was injured yesterday afternoon when his car crashed into a tree on Limerick Center road in Linfield.

Jacob Schneider, 41, was treated at Memorial hospital for a laceration of the right hand and bruises of the left leg.

Collegeville State police, who investigated, said Schneider had been driving south on the road at 12:45 o'clock when he failed to make a sharp turn to the right. His car crashed into the tree on the left side of the road. Police estimated damage to the front of his sedan at $500.

Mrs. Anna Adamski, who lives nearby, telephoned for a Good Will ambulance, which took Schneider to the hospital.

Movie comedian Stan Laurel (above) was reported to be in a "very good condition" yesterday in Paris after an operation Saturday for the removal of an abscess. Attendants at the American hospital said Laurel, 58, probably will be discharged in a few days.

'Dead Man' Proves To Be 2 Snoozers

A "dead man" in a car on Gilbertsville road early this morning turned out to be two men—both of whom were sound asleep.

The alarm was spread by three youths, Gene Haines and Peter Bengier, both of 627 Walnut street, and Lester Endy, Pottstown RD 3. They were on their way back from Gilbertsville when they saw an old car off the road in a ditch.

Believing it was a Hallowe'en prank, they stopped to investigate and found a wallet on the running board of the car. A closer look disclosed what appeared to be a "dead" man inside.

They sped to the Pottstown police station to report their find and to turn in the wallet. State police of the Collegeville substation were reached by radio to start an investigation.

Inspection of the wallet by Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler revealed it belonged to Donald H. Anderson, Harmony RD 1, Butler county.

Meanwhile, the three youths returned to the scene. The State police also arrived and awoke the two men in the car.

Both men were being questioned by the troopers at 1:45 o'clock.

CHINESE REDS —

not much left of the South Korean Sixth division after a three day battle near Onjong, 35 miles northeast of Kusong.

The Sixth's officers said a force of more than 10,000, most of them Chinese, cut up the South Koreans. MacBeth said senior South Korean officers and their American military advisors believe their forces are up against enemy troops "which have come down from the Manchurian border."

While the immediate situation appeared serious for the South Korean Republic Third division, strong American reinforcements were within 50 miles of Hamhung on the south and 75 miles on the north.

ELSEWHERE ALONG a 250-mile arc, United Nations forces edging toward the snowy fringes of the Manchurian border found their advance stalled by bitter Communist resistance.

The South Korean Sixth division pulled back advance elements from the Manchurian border above Chosan for a distance of 30 miles.

Other units of the Sixth division retreated in disorder after a bloody three-day battle in which they were opposed by at least some Chinese. The routed South Koreans succeeded in forming new positions near Onjong, 45 miles from Chosan.

Even the U. S. Fifth Regimental Combat team, part of the U. S. 24th division, was forced to dig in 34 miles southeast of Manchuria's Yalu river border after meeting determined Communist resistance. Associated Press correspondent William Jordan reported Red mortar and small-arms fire inflicted "heavy casualties" on the Americans.

He placed the Fifth regiment two miles east of Kusong, an important road and rail point on the main inland route to Communist Manchuria.

Pre-Hallowe'en Prank Blows Up in Their Face

ATHENS, Ohio, Oct. 30 (P)—Four youths tried to upset an outhouse with dynamite caps in a pre-Hallowe'en prank and were injured when one cap exploded early Sunday morning, Sheriff George Bateman reported.

He identified the four as Charles Kisor, Robert Keirns and Charles Leffler, all 18, and Joe Whaley, 17, all of nearby Millfield.

Pottstown Marine Reservist Is Granted Discharge Under New Hardship Ruling

The first Pottstown Marine reservist to be discharged from active duty after being called to serve is Corp. Walter R. Zeigler, 281 Lee avenue, it was learned yesterday.

Zeigler, who was home on an emergency furlough, received the discharge for which he had applied at camp on Saturday. It had been granted Oct. 20.

Under a recent Marine corps ruling, any Marine with three or more children may be discharged upon request.

"I think they are trying to release all married men as soon as they get single men to replace them," he said last night.

The move apparently is in answer to the hardship which has been worked on the families of servicemen who have been recalled to the armed forces. Many have been left without incomes because of the interim period between the passage of the bill for servicemen's dependents and the time it will be put into operation.

IF A SERVICEMAN in the first three pay grades authorized the deduction of $40 from his monthly pay, Zeigler explained, the government would contribute $85 to the support of his family. The $125 per month on which his family would have had to live is only about half of the income they would have had from his job as a mail carrier.

He already had made provision to allot more of his pay to his family, he said, before he was discharged.

Zeigler was among the Marine reservists called up during the summer to meet the needs of the Korean situation. He was stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he served as an assistant Navy mail clerk.

His emergency furlough would have ended at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning, but another discharged Marine passing through Pottstown brought Zeigler's discharge back with him. If Zeigler had not received the discharge, he would have been forced to make the trip back to his base to receive it.

Zeigler said he plans to return to his job at the local postoffice on Thursday.

HALLOWE'EN NOTICE from CITY HALL

Notice is hereby given to all those persons who intend to observe the spirit of Hallowe'en that destruction and damaging of property will not be tolerated in Pottstown. VIOLATORS WILL BE PROSECUTED TO THE FULLEST EXTENT OF THE LAW. If you want to avoid arrest do not mark windows of autos, business houses nor residences, or remove anything from private property. Removal of license plates from automobiles will be considered a serious offense and dealt with accordingly. Scarcity of materials to repair damage to property gives the authorities sufficient reason to inflict severe penalties on guilty persons. Govern yourselves accordingly.

Doehler Craftsmen To Receive Diplomas At Dinner Tonight

Eight craftsmen who have completed their apprenticeship in various trades will be guests tonight at a recognition dinner to be given by the Doehler-Jarvis corporation in the North Coventry Grange hall at 6:30 o'clock.

Recipients of diplomas will be William Bell, Heinz Herman, Harry Cangelin and Robert Kinckner, diemakers; Raymond Bechtel, Harry Semet and Fernley Murray, tool-makers; and Russell Mentzer, die repairman.

Harry Verdier, industrial secretary of the Germantown YMCA, will be the speaker.

Attending the dinner with the craftsmen will be the following: Howard W. Bartholomew, vice president and plant manager; E. G. Stauffer, plant superintendent; Elmer Rothenberger, labor relations director; Martin A. Felt, comptroller; and Dr. Gustave W. Weber, human relations director, all representing management.

Also Thomas Kennedy, regional director, and John Petras, field representative, respectively, for the Bureau of Apprenticeship, U. S. Department of Labor.

Union representatives will include Howard G. (Jeff) Hartenstine, president, and Thomas Widger, chief steward.

OTHERS TO attend are William A. Barth, Sr., Leonard Keffer, Leonard Huff, Albert Widdick, Everett Freese, Frank Seeppe and William Weiss, of the apprentice committee; Earl Custer, supervisor of apprentices.

Also these instructors from the Vocational department of the Pottstown Senior High school: W. O. Cresman Sr., W. O. Cresman Jr., Leroy Fredd, Robert Smith, Henry VanDyke and Mark Collins.

Also William Hohl, foreman of Die repair, Ray Evans and Glenn Schlegel, of the toolroom, Ken Nichols, Doehler-Jarvis Journal editor, and William Albright Jr., plant photographer.

Music will be provided by Mrs. Leonard Huff at the solovox keyboard.

Her Kitchen Stove Emits Costly Aroma

DUMONT, N. J., Oct. 30 (AP)—There was an expensive aroma coming from the kitchen stove.

Mrs. Thomas Dolan had decided to forego the usual Sunday dinner at a restaurant and treat her husband to some home-cooked roast.

Dolan, who owns a nearby tavern, settled back and waited, savoring the delicate aroma.

Mrs. Dolan sniffed. Mr. Dolan sniffed. There was an unusually crisp note creeping into the aroma.

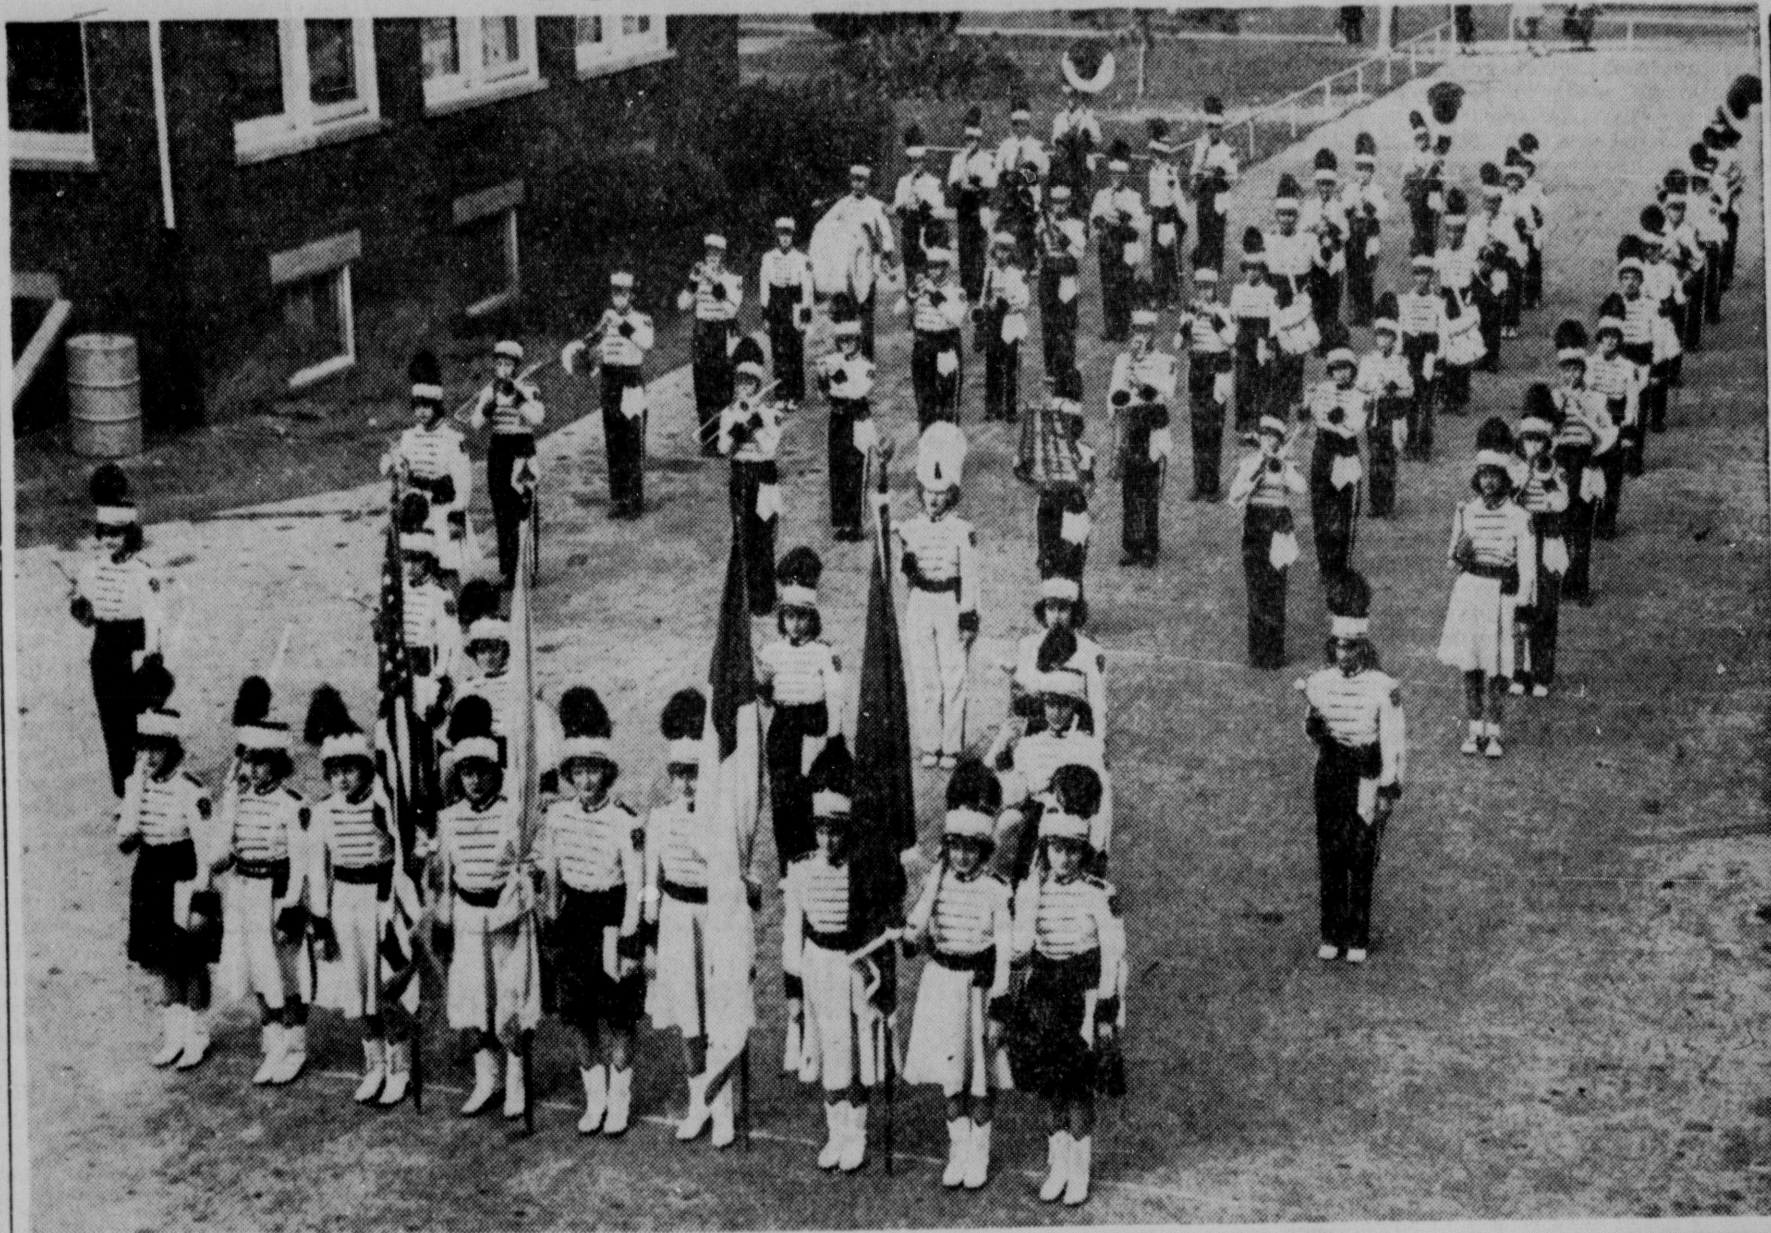

Neither knows who thought of it first—but both plunged toward the oven door and scooped out some charred items that were definitely not beef roast.

Dolan, who regularly stuffs his tavern's Saturday night earnings into the oven for safekeeping until the banks reopen on Monday, said he just forgot not to do what he always does.

Dolan said he would ask the U. S. Treasury at Washington to try to redeem the burned-out bits from the $600 in bills and $50 in coins, all with a fine aroma of roast beef.

Even the lowly clothespin has gone modern; it's now available in colored plastics.

Bands to Set the Tune for Hallowe'en Street Parade Tonight

License Revoked Of Driver Involved In Woman's Death

Robert Swavely, 726 Walnut street, whose car was one of three that hit Mrs. Catherine Newman, Birchrunville, the past April when she was found dead of the injuries on Route 100, has had his driving license revoked, it was announced yesterday.

The State Bureau of Highway Safety listed Swavely's name among the three revocations, 11 suspensions and four restorations in the Pottstown area during the two-week period ending Oct. 20. Swavely's revocation was for failure to render assistance at the scene.

The other licenses revoked were those of Howard William Barr, Route 73, Zieglerville, intoxication and failing to stop, and Samuel A. Selmer, Glen Moore, operating during suspension and failing to stop.

Suspensions went to Arthur J. Hatfield, 137 Walnut street, Spring City; Anthony Piazza, 218 South street; Ronald M. Mauger, 911 Beech street; Lucien F. Sexton, Box 356, Spring City; Leroy Leas, Apt. 39, Road A, Hilldale, all speeding, defense submitted.

Carl Wingard, Elverson RD 2; Joseph Valletta, Clayhor avenue, Collegeville; Bertha T. Stoudt, Pennsburg RD 1, all speeding, no defense submitted; Edward James Murphy, Royersford, failure to maintain financial proof; Michael E. Badner, Elverson RD 1, failure to appear for a hearing; Adam Brauner, 608 Grant street, failure to post security.

Licenses restored were those of Earl Francis Gorman, 1000 Spruce street; Harold Laverne Poley, 30 First avenue, Trappe; William G. Bartman Jr., Gilbertsville RD 1, and George Howard Kline, 35 Fairview street, Boyertown.

Directors Discuss School Expansion at Upper Pottsgrove

The first steps toward the possible expansion of the Upper Pottsgrove school to meet a growing school population were taken at a meeting of the township school board last night.

Faced with the necessity of adding two rooms to the school by the fall of 1953, the directors considered methods of achieving their goal. They were assisted by Abram H. Kulp, Montgomery county superintendent of schools.

Kulp outlined procedures the board would have to follow as well as provisions they would have to make to have the additional rooms added to the building.

"Nothing definite was done," Harry W. Overholzer, board secretary, reported. "We wanted to find out where we stand and what we would have to do.

"We won't need the rooms until 1953, but we thought we would start early. We've seen what other schools have been up against because they started too late."

The board voted to investigate the possibility of obtaining a truant officer during the course of the meeting. Several men who might possibly fill the job will be interviewed. Overholzer said.

John B. Ferdinand, principal, reported the medical examination of school pupils is expected to be completed within the next two weeks.

All members of the board were present at the session.

The Witches' Night
THE HISTORY of Halloween might well have been brewed in a bubbling caldron by a chanting, black-robed witch, for Halloween is an unbelievable mixture of ancient festivals, medieval superstition, and Christian belief.

Halloween is the direct descendant of a harvest festival celebrated in Britain by the Druids long before the Christian era. The night before the festival was called "All Soul's Eve," and on this night "Saman," the Lord of Death, called together all the souls of wicked men who had been condemned to inhabit the bodies of animals. The Druids believed that Saman then decided the forms the condemned souls should take for the next year.

The belief that evil spirits roam among men on Halloween can be traced to this Druidic "gathering of the souls."

The Druids were responsible for linking the cat with evil on Halloween. The Druids believed that cats were human beings who were changed into animals for some misdeed. This superstition took many forms, and, later, cats became standard equipment for anyone who practiced witchcraft.

When Caesar's legions invaded Britain, the Roman Feast of Pomona mingled with the Druidic celebration. Pomona was the Goddess of the autumn harvest—and nuts and apples were eaten at her festival. To this day, nuts and apples have a place in Halloween festivities.

In an effort to curb the pagan aspect of the evening, the early Christian Church set aside November first as "All Saints' Day." The evening before was then called "Hallowed Evening"—which was corrupted to "Halloween."

Throughout the years the legends and superstitions grew.

The origin of the jack-o'-lantern can be traced to Ireland.

The legend says that a man named Jack was barred from heaven because he was stingy. When Jack got to Hell, the devil refused to admit him, because, as a human, Jack had played practical jokes on Satan. So the stingy practical joker was condemned to walk the streets with a lantern until Judgment Day.

Waxing windows comes from the British "Chalk-Back" day. Street ruffians would chalk the backs of adults with circles to indicate that the rule of the summer sun was over.

Children in ancient times were quick to see that Halloween's superstition offered many opportunities for mischief.

If gates disappeared and horses and cattle were mysteriously turned loose, the townfolk blamed it on spooks and ghosts.

At the time, it was believed that wicked souls took the form of adults, so the children began dressing as grownups. If anyone saw the costumed youngster engaged in a prank, the spook would be blamed.

Today in Pottstown, the spooks walk on High street, which is better for celebrator and spectator alike. Through the cooperation of the Pottstown Recreation department, juvenile vandalism almost has been ended here by the staging of these annual parades.

The Recreation department, Pottstown's civic clubs who marshal the parade, and Pie-man Bob Smith, who help make it a success, are to be commended for their fine work.

Postmasters and Politics

A rather brave man was required to tell the National Association of Postmasters convention here that postmasters should be taken out of politics, and Harry B. Mitchell, chairman of the federal Civil Service Commission, told them exactly that.

Most of the delegates to the convention are or have been in politics. If they had not been in politics, they would not be postmasters.

The law requires appointment of candidates for these offices from civil service lists, based on merit. But the choice usually results in appointment from the party in power. This system is almost traditional, but it wastes individual ability, injures morale and permits inefficiency in postal operations.

A major recommendation of the Hoover Commission was to remove postmasters from politics. President Truman asked Congress to provide for appointment of postmasters by the Postmaster General, rather than by the President, without Senate confirmation. Mr. Mitchell believes this would at least reduce political influences. Yet the Senate Post Office Committee rejected the plan.

The patronage system has outgrown any excuse for its existence. Today politics are only added burden to a money-losing department, and it is high time that Congress modernized one of the oldest Government services.

Mr. Truman has made matters worse by scolding, lecturing and ridiculing questioners who touch a sore or vulnerable point. Nor has the process of identification improved the relationship between him and his interviewers. Recently, he denounced in bitter tones the reporter of a newspaper which strongly supports his foreign program.

He was upset because the newsman wanted to know whether he and MacArthur had discussed and reached an agreement of the future status of Formosa. Mr. Truman confused the interviewer because so many veteran bureau heads send younger members of their staff to these sessions.

Takes Issue on 'Non-Profit' Argument for Banner

Strictly Commercial

To the Editor: The medical insurance organization that has an advertising banner over South Hanover street may be called a non-profit concern, but it's just as much a commercial enterprise as any other insurance company.

I have lived on this planet long enough to know that no one is in business solely to do good for humanity.

What profit anyway? Webster defines it as the excess of income over expenditure. It only takes a little book work to increase the expenditure so that prices must be increased to realize more income. And so on.

No commercial organization should be allowed to capitalize on our public thoroughfares. Why, even the taprooms can't hang out signs advertising a certain brand of beer. That's State law.

I believe the question of permitting an advertisement over one of our public streets should be a matter for our council to decide. The burgess alone should have no authority in this matter.

WASHINGTON

Truman Press Sessions

Now Reduced to Farce

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—As a means of keeping the American people informed on the Administration's national and international plans and policies, the system of conducting presidential press-radio conferences installed by President Truman has become farcical. The system is responsible for the steadily diminishing flow of accurate, complete and informative news about White House doings.

Even under Chief Executives who came to dislike and resent semi-weekly interrogation, especially Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, reporters were able to make inquiry about matters affecting the lives and prospects of their millions of readers.

They were not regimented or tagged, for they stood in a general group in the President's private office. They could—and did—ask pertinent questions, and sometimes it took courage to ask them, if they were of an embarrassing nature.

QUERIES: The old system was so informal that even a cub reporter newly arrived at the Capital dared to raise his voice, and it so happens that these young and fresh minds thought up more vital, bread-and-butter queries than their more elderly colleagues.

If the head man evaded or brushed aside one of these questions, another correspondent used to continue to press for a more satisfactory answer. This is permissible, provided it is not carried beyond limits of respect and decorum.

Presidents often refused to give any reply. But, as often as not, the tone and manner of the presidential refusal was as productive of news as a specific answer.

THRILLS: Anyway, this catch-as-catch-can method was responsible for obtaining a fairly large and reasonably honest supply of information which the public has a right to know under our system of government.

In this connection, it should be noted that, if there is a single American institution which amazes and thrills foreign correspondents when first assigned to cover Washington, it is the President's twice-a-week conferences with representatives of the press, the radio and magazines.

"I wouldn't have believed it, if I hadn't seen it," is a typical comment.

IDENTIFICATION: Mr. Truman reorganized this free-and-easy design after a few encounters in which it was obvious that he was not as well informed on certain major problems as his interviewer were. He apparently made the change for self-protection.

The meetings were transferred to an auditorium where the State department building, where the reporters are seated before the President, who stands at the front of the hall. When they wish to propound a question, they must stand up, give their name and their newspaper, radio or magazine connection.

This identification seems gratuitous and unnecessary, for nobody may attend these sessions until he has been investigated thoroughly and issued credentials by the White House Secret Service.

SCOLDING: But this gold-fish bowl performance has an insidiously restrictive effect on the flow of news. Strange as it may seem, especially the younger members of the corps, many of the group are too shy to get to their feet and put a tough question to the President of the United States. This is especially unfortunate because so many veteran bureau heads send younger members of their staff to these sessions.

"since May 4, 1949, not the least effort has been made by the Administration to repeal, change or amend the Taft-Hartley act."

The Democratic candidate said the next night that his opponent voted in Congress against the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

If the Democrats didn't want to repeal the law, how could a Republican vote against it? Or did the Republicans want to repeal the law, and our own Congressman vote against it?

I don't want to hear any answers from either the Republicans or Democrats. Don't bother me. I want to go on my confused way.

Television 'Phones Next?

To the Editor: I was very interested in reading the television section in your newspaper on Wednesday.

The story in the section about the way engineers were thinking about television even in the days when radio was first being developed made me wonder what the engineers are planning for the future now that they are developing television.

My guess would be television-telephones. I think it will open a big field both in communication and entertainment. Then, when we called up our friends, we could not only hear our friends but see them as well.

And I am sure it would be a treat for most of us to look at the girls who are the "voice with a smile."

Of course, there may be a few difficulties at first, such as what to do with people like me who never get a telephone call until they are in the bathtub or taking out the ashes, and what we are going to do to keep from looking bored during some of those endless phone conversations with relatives.

But every industry has its bugs and these will be ironed out soon enough.

Pleads for Stable Money

To the Editor: To those with an open mind who pause long enough to ponder the direction in which our beloved country is drifting, the remarks of the mediocre donkey politicians now in the saddle appear as hollow as the heads they come out of.

Although most intelligent people have no appetite for the program of these fuzzy-minded pinks, they continue to try to deceive working men and women with their babble of greater expenditures based on tax and spend, to carry on the "cold war," which will in all probability be followed by the "hot war," and then if there is anyone still left, another WPA.

There is nothing progressive and there is nothing constructive about giving billions of dollars to foreign countries.

Instead, we had better elect American-minded men to Congress who will commit themselves to the principles of thrift and stability of currency, which so vitally affects insurance policies and all other investments of every family.

It's the story of a New York newspaper editor who fears the bomb and moves to Arizona with his family. . . . The biggest torch in town is being toted by Beth Douglas, the pretty "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" singer. The lad in the case is actor Murray Hamilton, currently making a flicker in New England. . . . What two Washington lobbyists are working for permission for Lucky Luciano to reenter the U. S.—and at a fabulous fee?

CHARLES SANFORD has written a funny tune for Bob Hope's next picture: "How Can I Tell You I Love You When You're Always Laughing At My Jokes?" Tallulah Bankhead is being mentioned for the screen version of the S. N. Behrman comedy, "Biography," but she's also busy with NBC's radio extravaganza, "The Big Show," which debuts in New York Nov. 5.

Some of the broadcasts will emanate from the West Coast and some of the "Biography" scenes will be shot in the East, but Tallulah isn't sanguine about dovetailing the two. . . . "I'd like to do the picture," she says, "but life, being what it is, they'll probably be shooting here when I'm THERE, and vice versa!"

PHYLIS KIRK will be the young charmer in "Cherchez la Femme"—present title for the sequel to "Mrs. O'Malley and Mr. Malone." Original tag: "Cherchez la Femme"—but don't ask us why. . . . Dana Andrews and Farley Granger are already penciled in as stars of "I Want You," a super-duper that Sam Goldwyn Jr. will produce from an original story by son S. Goldwyn Jr. Sam 2d leaves pronto for Washington and confabs with Lewis B. Hershey about his yarn that died with the current drafting of men who're already vets of World War II. . . . Mitzi Green and Gene Wesson are becoming a permanent team for nightclub appearances after their "impromptu" doings at Ciro's here.

MELTED POT-POURI: Marjorie Hughes, datter of band leader Frankie Carle will soon be recording for Columbia Records—switching from Victor. . . . Bobby Riggs, flushed with the success of last year's tennis tour, will enter the baseball field, setting up a national trek for two all-star teams this Winter. . . . Vivien Leigh takes off for New Orleans and the final scenes for "Streetcar Named Desire." Director Elia Kazan is already there dusting off the tracks.

PICTURE FANS SAD—The sudden death in Arizona of Tom Mix, popular moving picture star, has saddened many Pottstown picture fans. Mix's body was found pinned under an automobile. Last month he was a guest at the Montgomery county fair at Hatfield.

WIDEN STREET—The widening of West High street has caused some damage to properties. Opposite the Stowe post office, a half of a frame house owned by Morris Romig has been demolished. Porches of a double brick house also owned by Romig have been removed. Romig has purchased a home in Pottstown.

DRAFT—All males 21 to 35 years of age are registering for the draft. In Pennsylvania, it is estimated the total is 1,500,000. Members of Pottstown Draft Board No. 9 are as follows: Jesse R. Evans, Charles L. Schuch, Carroll L. Ruter, Dr. Henry D. Reed and Warren Sterner, the latter of Gilbertsville.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30. If Faye Emerson and Skitch Henderson aren't wed in January, as per his plans, it won't be because he's not trying! Up to a couple weeks ago, both were willing, but now it's Faye who is wavering. . . . Ditto for Nancy Davis who doesn't think that wedded bliss with Norman Krasna is just the thing for her at this point. . . . Is it just coincidence or "planned strategy" that Will Price isn't accompanying spouse Maureen O'Hara on her coming Faye Emerson Australian trek to film "Kangaroo"? . . . The Andy Russells, who've been one for five years, plan saying their "I do's" all over again in an eastern church next week. . . . A. N. Y. scribe who seldom gets ANYTHING right, tabs Mike McCauland as a wealthy west coaster who is Estelle Taylor's most serious romance in years, etc. McCauland is the L. A. Times newspaperman currently rushing to marry Paula Raymond like mad!

MENTIONING money (what a lahhhvvly subject!) reminds us that Ellen Drew and Bill Walker, the Croesus who's been courting her for months, are readying a $10,000 wedding. Elizabeth Fraser writes pals she's going ahead with her dividing documents despite the fact that husband, Ray McDonald has said he'll contest the suit. Meantime for the Utter Confusion Dept: Elizabeth has been dating Jimmy Cross, once wed to Peggy Ryan. Peggy has been touring with Elizabeth's husband, R. McDonald, as her dance partner. AND Peggy Ryan was once married to Jimmy Cross—or don't you follow us????

Hallowe'en Parade To Start at 7 P. M.; Party Will Follow

Everything is in readiness for tonight's second annual Hallowe'en parade for the boys and girls of the community sponsored by the Boyertown Businessmen's association.

The parade will start promptly at 7 o'clock, when the whistle on the Boyertown Burial Casket company plant will be sounded. A blast of the fire company whistle will signal the end of the parade which will be followed by a block party at Rittenhouse Square, West Philadelphia avenue.

The block party program will include Billy Bach, the midget clown and master of ceremonies; Jimmy Johnson and his birds; Capt. Shaw and Bobby, the wonder monkey, and Tex Carson's Western show.

There will be free cider and birch beer furnished by the Rotary and Lions clubs, while pretzels will be donated by White-ters.

Miss Elmira Mauger, Legion Ladies' auxiliary president, has urged all members planning to help at the refreshment stand, to be on hand on West Philadelphia avenue by 6:45 o'clock.

DEATHS FUNERALS

HOWARD R. SCHELL, 83, died on Sunday night at his home in BALLY. His birthday was the past Saturday.

He was a plasterer by trade and was a lifelong resident of that community.

Girl Scout Units Attend Reformed Church Services

Brownie and Girl Scout troops, leaders, assistant leaders and troop committee members, attended the morning worship services in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed on Sunday morning.

The Brownies repeated their promise and the Girl Scouts repeated their promise and laws during the services. The entire group joined in singing the Girl Scout hymn.

The Rev. Harper L. Schneck, pastor of the church, spoke on the subject "What Are You Looking For?" He based his remarks on the Brownie and Girl Scout promises.

There were 71 girls and 28 adults attending, representing the scouting organizations in Boyertown.

MRS. BETTY MALATESTA recently entertained members of Brownie Troop 85 at her home. Games were played and the girls roasted doggies and marshmallows.

Attending were Marlene Wasiluk, Margaret Leidy, Carol Ann Moyer, Carol Ann Schanley, Barbara Malatesta, Betty Dillon, Bonnie Bauer, Gail Betz, Jane Yerger, Caroline Schneck, Barbara Schneck, Sue Frecon, Phyllis Brooke, Mrs. Freda Moyer and the hostess.

60 Attend Party Held By Local Cub Scouts

Approximately 60 Boyertown Cub Scouts and parents attended the annual Scout Hallowe'en party in the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church social room.

Majority of the scouts came masked and costumed.

Carl Knauer was awarded a prize for wearing the funniest costume, while Ralph Breinsinger received an award for the best disguise.

The Den mothers were in charge of games and stunts. Those assisting were Mrs. Jack B. Kline, Mrs. Ernest T. Haas, Mrs. Clifford Starr, Mrs. Paul B. Harner, Mrs. Walter C. Brooke and Mrs. Homer Erb.

The refreshment committee was comprised of Mrs. Norman H. Ritter, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lester Ritter, Mrs. Helen C. Dillon, Mrs. Harry I. Gilbert, Mrs. Arthur T. Rowland and Mrs. Paul Shollenberger.

The Cubs are planning a cake sale to be conducted in the near future.

Cub Master Homer Erb was in charge of the party.

Gerald Ehst Weds Miss Shirley Shaner

Attired in a fashionable gown of satin and lace, Miss Shirley V. Shaner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shaner, Bechtelsville, exchanged vows with Gerald D. Ehst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ehst, Gabelville, Boyertown RD. 1, Saturday afternoon in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed.

The Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, performed the double ring ceremony. The vocal soloist was Miss Shirley Gift, accompanied at the organ by Emerson Harding.

The bride's gown was styled along the form-fitting bodice, with long sleeves ending in a lace cuff at the wrists. The skirt was full and ended in a long train. She wore a fingertip veil, which fell from a tiara of beads and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book, topped with a white orchid and streamers to which were attached lily of the valley.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Leon Prutzman, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a green satin gown with an off-the-shoulder effect, fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore matching mitts and satin headress and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and pom poms.

Miss Dolores Zern, the bridesmaid, who is a cousin of the bride, was attired in a gold satin gown styled the same as the matron of honor's gown and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums and pom poms.

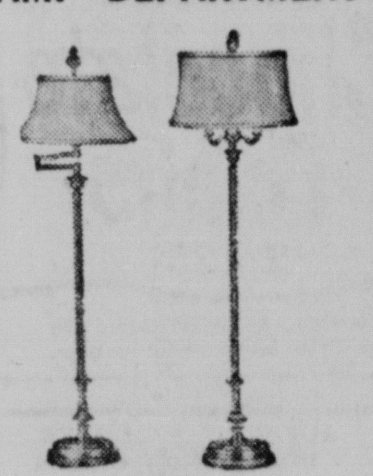

Leon Prutzman served as best man. The ushers were Paul Moatz Jr. and Elam Schaffer Jr.

The bride's mother chose a black dress, trimmed with velvet and black accessories and a baby orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress, with black accessories and a baby orchid corsage.

A reception at the Bechtelsville Fire company hall was held after the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

Man Is Fined $15 On Disorderly Count Brought by His Wife

Norman S. Mock, 68, of 241 Masterson street, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct brought by his wife Rebecca, 73, at a hearing yesterday in borough hall before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley.

Mock, who had been released of $20 bail also had been charged originally with being drunk and with threatening to do bodily harm.

The charges were brought as the result of Mock's alleged threats to knock his wife "flat," when she returned to their home Friday evening. Mrs. Mock said at the hearing that her husband "had had plenty to drink" but she refused to call him drunk.

Appearing on behalf of Mrs. Mock was a daughter by a previous marriage, Ruth Buckwalter. Mock denied being under the influence of liquor.

OLLIE MADISON, 42, of Pleasant View road, Perkiomenville RD 1, was held for court on a charge of drunken driving at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley yesterday afternoon.

Madison was arrested at High and Hanover streets at 9:30 p. m. Saturday by Patrolman Robert Scheidt when the officer saw Madison's car bump into the rear of another.

He was pronounced unfit to drive after being taken for examination to Pottstown hospital.

Obviously upset and distraught at the experience, Madison pleaded guilty to the charge and said he would appear in Montgomery county court Friday to enter a similar plea.

He was freed in $500 bail.

Pughtown Candidate To Address Demos

Harry C. Symons, of Pughtown, candidate for the State legislature from the Second district, Chester county, will be one of the speakers at a Democratic rally in South Coventry High school Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Symons is an instructor at Ursinus college, Collegeville, and a farmer.

The meeting has been arranged by the Chester County Democratic campaign committee. It also will feature talks by Philip Ragan, Malvern, candidate for Congress from Chester-Lancaster counties; Mrs. Janet P. Whitney, Westtown, and Herbert Clavier, Coatesville, both candidates for the legislature.

Also attending will be County Democratic Chairman Samuel Lichtenfield, Strafford, and Earl K. Witwer, Elverson, State committee-man who will preside at the meeting. The rally is open to the public.

Gets U. S. Husband by Mail

A bride's joy is evident on face of Liliana Biagi, 26-year-old Italian postal clerk, as she leaves church in Castello, Italy, with the New Jerseyite she married following a romance by mail. He's Glover W. Miller, 39, who answered her letter published in an Atlantic City newspaper, in which she said she wanted an American husband and would like a prospect to write to her. Photo of her published along with the letter drew scores of replies, and Miller was the lucky one.

County GOP Flayed Before Demo Club

Leon H. MacMullen, Democratic candidate for Congressman from the 16th district, declared last night that the "once powerful Republican machine is wheezing to a halt in Montgomery county and is finally coming apart at the seams."

Speaking before 32 persons at a meeting of West Pottsgrove Democratic committee members and workers, MacMullen charged that his Republican opponent, incumbent Samuel K. McConnell Jr., was concerned about corporation taxes "while thousands of young Americans were fighting and dying in our defense in Korea."

MacMullen cited as evidence to support his assertion that GOP rule of the county is faltering, the reported support given Democrats yesterday by John H. Hoffman, former Republican county committee chairman and campaign director for Jay Cooke, who was defeated by Duff in the primaries.

"Just this morning," MacMullen declared, "Hoffman bitterly denounced the Duff-Fine slate as a 'ruinous partnership with power-mad county leaders who are seeking to use the Republican party in this county for their own selfish purpose.'"

The meeting was held at the home of Charles Madaras, 516 East Vine street, Stowe.

Obituaries

Mrs. Susan Mikletz Dies of Long Illness

Susan (Mikletz) Mikletz, 82, wife of the late Paul Mikletz, Pottstown, Pa., died at her home near the Halfway House at 9 o'clock last night.

She had been ill for the past five months and was bedfast for the past nine weeks.

Born in Austria-Hungary, she was a daughter of the late George and Susan (Mikletz) Mikletz. She came to the United States in 1908 and, after living for several years in Stowe, moved to her present address.

She was a member of the Slovak Lutheran church of St. John the Baptist.

SURVIVING ARE four sons: Paul, of 637 Lemon street, Stowe; the Rev. John Mikletz, Byesville, Ohio; Michael, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Martin, at home; one daughter, Susan, wife of John Satko, 903 Glasgow street, Stowe; 14 grandchildren, and 21 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street, with further services at 2 o'clock in the Slovak Lutheran church of St. John the Baptist.

The Rev. Joseph A. Kavalek, Trenton, N. J., will officiate. Interment will be made in Pottstown East End cemetery.

HALLOWE'EN —

Mercantile bureau, Jack Hoffman; Police, Chief James H. Laughhead; Fire police, Richard E. Lindauer, and the Recreation commission, J. Max Cresswell.

At the end of the line of march, bands will proceed to the Elks' club for refreshments. Other marchers will be detailed to appropriate locations by marshals for refreshments. Pies will be given, donated by Mrs. Smith's Pie company, along with sandwiches and soft drinks.

Prizes for the various divisions, with the exception of vehicles, are $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 for first, second and third place, to be gift certificates exchangeable for merchandise in any retail store affiliated with the Mercantile bureau.

Prizes for the vehicle division are $15.00, $7.50 and $2.50, respectively, for first, second and third places, to be given in cash.

All prize winners will be announced in The Mercury Wednesday morning.

During the parade, which is estimated to take an hour, traffic will be detoured off High street between Manatawny and Adams streets.

Westbound traffic will use Walnut street, while eastbound traffic will use Chestnut street, Donnon said.

HUNTING OPENS —

should be enough for most of them. Blair explained the hunter would be wise to take care of his dog, since that will be the best way to get game after opening day. A dog will be needed to dig out rabbits and pheasants made wary by the first day's shooting.

HUNTERS WERE warned they are prohibited from hunting in groups of more than five by the State game laws. The penalty for the violation of this law is $5 per person.

If the weather continues warm, it is possible many hunters may discard their bright red coats, Blair said. If they do, they should make every effort to be sure they are wearing red caps.

"It might just happen that the top of a bare head over a knoll might look like a rabbit to another hunter," he declared. "I'd hate to have to investigate a hunting accident."

Gunning tomorrow will be permissible from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. On the remaining days of the season, however, hunters may shoot game from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Hunters may not cover fields in groups of more than five under the State game law. In addition to making themselves liable to $5 fines per person, they also antagonize farmers and could cause the closing of hunting lands to other gunners.

ing of hunting lands to other gunners.

LIMITS TO THE amount of game which may be taken are printed on the license certificates. Blair continued, and hunters should observe the law. If questions arise, it is preferable to call a representative of the game commission for answers rather than to rely on hearsay, he added.

Under the law, the limit on small game from Nov. 1 to Nov. 15 is: Pheasant, cock birds only, two per day, eight per season.

Rabbits, four per day, 20 per season.
Squirrels, grey, black and fox, combined bag, four per day, 20 per season.

A SHORTER SEASON, from Nov. 1 to Nov. 15, is provided for quail, Hungarian partridge and ruffed grouse. The limits are:
Quail, or bob-white, four per day, 12 per season.

Hungarian partridge, two per day, eight per season.
Ruffed grouse, two per day, six per season.

No person is allowed to have more than the equivalent of two days' limit in his possession at any time.

A SCARCITY OF pheasant has been noted in parts of Chester county. Howard G. "Sax" Seibold, South Coventry constable and sportsman, reported some rabbits, but few pheasants, in his neighborhood.

He believed the shortage was due to the depredations of gray foxes throughout the area during the past summer. The 37 year old ban on shooting foxes has been lifted in Chester county recently and it is possible small game conditions may benefit materially.

An appeal for all hunters to use care during the gunning season was issued by Irvin R. Clemens, president of the Roversford Hunting and Fishing association.

"Bird dogs and beagle hounds have been 'nosing out' game in the fields the past weeks and we are all enthusiastically looking forward to Nov. 1, of course," he declared. "But, as we enjoy God's great outdoors, let's heed the timely warning of our district forester, Wilford P. Moll, as he urges us to help prevent field and forest fires.

"Also, let's resolve to hunt safely, obey the game laws and, above all, respect the rights of land owners on whose properties we are privileged to enjoy a favorite sport of the 'American way of life.' "Wear red and report violators."

carbon monoxide.

There were two cash bonus prizes. Brook Rightmire, Pottstown Star Route, captured one with a report that a motorcyclist had been injured seriously when his cycle skidded underneath the rear of a truck.

Mary Ann Swartz, 25 Boone court, Penn Village, won the other for passing along word that some South Pottstown homes were without electricity because a river crane snapped the wires.

The moral of Mrs. Wert's victory is: There's no time limit on news tips. Whether you report something that will happen next month or something that's still happening while you're telephoning, the judges will see to it that the tip gets its proper reward.

Young Ghosts, Black Cats and Witches Celebrate Hallowe'en at Many Parties

'Twas a Hallowe'en night of spirits and magic last night as the light of the moon burst down upon a motley crew of conviving spirits. Goblins hobnobbed with hag faced witches whose soiled brooms skirted many a street to the low lugubrious moans of slinking ghosts.

To beware and take care, was good advice for any solid citizen to follow last night when a mammoth black cat might have crossed one's path or some mysterious figure may have suddenly appeared.

But underneath the grotesque mask and wigs were the twinkling eyes and shining faces of the boys and girls next door playing wholeheartedly at the game of make-believe.

There were parties galore all over the town sponsored by various business clubs and directed by Mr. Francis Donnon, of the Pottstown Recreation commission.

Little devils, bent on fun, roaring lions, otherwise timid, and dainty frilled prima donnas, made their way to the Rupert, St. Clair and Junior High schools at 6:30 p. m. when the elementary set made merry.

The Rupert school activity room was trimmed with the traditional black and orange decorations and a Jack-o-lantern grinned mischievously from his place of rest. Members of the First to Third grades inclusive, of the Rupert, Wyndcroft and St. Peter's schools drifted in and joined in the "pin the pumpkin" game and other activities.

MISS GENEVIEVE Snyder and Miss Betty Scheffey took charge of the affair which was sponsored by the Rotary club.

Members on hand from the club were Mr. and Mrs. C. Gordon Astheimer and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Feroe who were judges for the costumes. Prizes were awarded.

At the St. Clair school there was more evidence of the Hallowe'en spirit. Orange and black paper streamers attached to all four walls were extended into the center of the room and knotted over a smiling pumpkin.

Indians trailed blankets and youngsters from the St. Clair, Washington and Jackson schools displayed clown, ballerina and drum majorette and other costumes from 6:30 until 8 p. m.

Mrs. Marion Glavis led the preening masqueraders in front of the judges who distributed awards. There were many games in charge of Mrs. Glavis and Mrs. Raymond Muhn. Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Perkins, members of the Optimist club, which sponsored the affair were the judges.

Wild gun shots were heard outside of the Junior High school as masked youngsters prepared to make a grand entrance. Covorting over the grounds, they finally made their way into the gaily decorated hall.

There were black skeletons, and witches and all kinds of orange and black decorations which lent an aura of pleasure instead of chill to the gym.

Approximately 200 youngsters took part in "passing the pumpkin," a fast action game, while many parents watched the fun from the sidelines. All sorts of sizes and shapes joined in playing the "boo!" game and laughter and gaiety held first place.

YOUNG FOLKS from the Jefferson, St. Aloysius and Lincoln schools crowded into the gym from 6:30 to 8 p. m. to have fun at the party which was sponsored by the American Business club, Soroptimist club, and Lions club.

On the directing end were Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Manthorne and Mr. and Mrs. John Trevel.

The members of the sponsoring clubs who were judges were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowen, Mrs. John Hoffecker, Mr. and Mrs. William Hillegas, American Business club; Mrs. Lillian Bennett, Mrs. A. E. Willauer, Mrs. Helen A. Reilly, Mrs. Dorothy Sands, and Mrs. Margaret Clements, of the Soroptimist club.

The same rooms in the same schools continued their festivities after the First to Third grades left. Members of the Fourth to Sixth grades of the same schools held their parties from 8 until 9:30 p. m.

At the Rupert school, Miss Snyder and Miss Scheffey again led the masqueraders in games. The judges from the Rotary club were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maack and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Baumann.

In the St. Clair school pupils from the fourth to sixth grades got into the spirit of things under the direction of Mrs. Glavis and Mr. Muhn later in the evening.

The judges from the Optimist club which sponsored the party, were Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades and Mr. and Mrs. Perkins.

THE FOURTH, Fifth and Sixth grades also took over the Junior High school gym and competed for prizes guided through their routines by Mr. and Mrs. Manthorne and Mr. and Mrs. Trevel. The judges of their earlier party made the awards at the latter one.

Bethany center was alive with an array of colorful costumes as members of elementary school age showed off their Hallowe'en get-ups and tithered under most natural looking masks. There were many games for the youngsters who attended from 6 until 8 p. m. directed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ricketts and Mrs. Enoch Martin.

Prizes were awarded for costumes by judges, Mrs. Dorothy Finkley, Miss Fay Gibson and Miss Alice Ricketts, members of the Bethany center association.

At 8:30 p. m. Paul Hoffman and his orchestra took over and the teen-age set got in step to a lot of fine music. The dance and party were sponsored by the Pottstown Kiwanis club and Local 211 of the American Federation of Musicians. Refreshments were served.

Those in charge of the program were Mrs. Ricketts, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Katharine Beasley and Mrs. Etta Lewis.

A "live junction" was held for the Junior High school students at the

Many Prize Winners Selected at Parties Planned by Local Recreation Commission

What can be more rewarding to a child than to walk home from a Hallowe'en party with a prize for the costume that mother has worked on and planned for during the past weeks?

While the 1666 children all looked special at last night's Recreation commission parties, and the judges had a hard time picking winners, the prize winners were finally selected.

In St. Clair school, where students of that school joined with members of the Washington and Jackson schools, winners in Grades 1, 2 and 3 were:

Debbay Ann Hampton, best costume in the spirit of Hallowe'en; Madeline Petro, most elaborate costume; Carl Shaner, most comical costume; Martin Konig, best ghost; George Bianchini, best Western; Lois Albright, most original; John Karpinski, best witch; David Glavis, best impersonation; Barbara Jean Wayock, best animal; and Marlene Koropka, most grotesque head. Game and contest winners in the same school and age groups were:

WILLIAM HAINE, John Karpinski and Judith Irene Jones. In the same school, winners in grades four, five and six were: Shirley Brazier, best costume in the spirit of Hallowe'en; Joan Mackewicz and Dorothy Schaffer, most elaborate; Joan Albright, most comical; Rodney Herner, best ghost; Gail Hausman, best Western; Elizabeth Albright, most original; Penny Fleming, best witch; Bruce Mauger, best impersonation; Darlene Wensel, best animal; and Florence Halley, most grotesque head. Winners at games and contests were:

Pumpkins and Black Cats Teen on Hallowe'en Night

YWCA from 8 until 11 p. m. last night and also for the seventh and eighth graders from St. Aloysius school.

THE JUNIOR set out a few steps to Harold Smith and his orchestra attired in their usual dungarees although a few costumes were visible bobbing in the midst of the 200 dancers.

Chaperones were Miss Florence Decker, president of the YWCA; Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Storm, Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacPhail, Mr. L. Ernest Pickard, Mr. Harry Wilson, and Mrs. William Eagle.

The party was sponsored by the Pottstown Kiwanis club, and Local 211, American Federation of Musicians in co-operation with the YWCA. Refreshments were served. Approximately 300 teen-agers made their way into the Pottstown Senior High school gym which was decorated with black cats, pumpkins and streamers of orange and black, last night.

A variety of special dances was enjoyed to the music of Chuck Fulmer and his orchestra.

Chaperones and judges were Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Kiehl, Mr. Harry Wilson, Mr. Harry W. Burdian and Mr. L. Ernest Pickard, of the Kiwanis club. Also Mr. Thomas Pollock and Mr. Eugene Zeleznick, of the Key club.

Refreshments were served and the affair was sponsored by the Pottstown club, Local 211 of the American Federation of Musicians. The Key club, a boys organization at the high school sponsored by the Kiwanis club, also assisted.

Besides the cider and ice cream refreshments provided by the sponsoring clubs there were plenty of apples available. Mr. Paul Dahms, Sunnyside Orchards, donated 16 bushels of apples.

Miss Janet L. Knod Becomes Bride of Mr. Clair Dampman

Miss Janet Louise Knod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Knod, 9 East Fifth street, and Mr. Clair A. Dampman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dampman, 52 Walnut street, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic rectory.

The Rev. William Begley, rector, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Knod wore a gown of ivory satin with an illusion neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed over the wrists and a full skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a crown of rhinestones and pearls.

Mr. Knod gave his daughter in marriage. Matron of honor was Mrs. LaRue Knod, sister-in-law of the bride. Her satin gown was an off shade of rose, with which she wore matching mitts and hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and bronze pompons.

A brother of the bride, Mr. George Knod, was best man.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was held at Bramcote hotel, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip of an undisclosed destination. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories.

The newlyweds will reside at 1000 Queen street in their newly furnished apartment upon their return. Guests attended from New York, North Carolina, Elverson, St. Peters, Upper Darby and Chester.

Sojourn to Flower Show Planned by Garden Club

The Pottstown Garden club will journey to Swarthmore Friday to view the chrysanthemum show of the Pennsylvania Horticultural society and the Arthur Hoyt Scott foundation.

The show will be held in the field house of Swarthmore college. Private cars will leave Pottstown at 10 o'clock Friday morning and luncheon will be held at Strath Haven Inn.

An invitation to members of the Century club to attend the show with their group has been extended by the Garden club.

This visit will take place of the regular November meeting. Members interested in going were asked to contact Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Rosedale and Wilson drives, or Mrs. Harold Binder, Auchenbach apartments, by Wednesday for reservations.

IT'S 8 WAYS [COUNT THEM] WITH WONDER BREAD

To Help Keep Your Child From Slipping Behind in Healthy Growth!

2 Slices a Meal and a Sandwich Daily Supply!

TO DOCTORS: Evidence supporting statements below sent upon request on your letterhead.

Because Wonder Bread Helps Supply 8 Elements
Children Need To Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread
Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish

365 days a year, 3 times each day—every mother is faced with this simple proposition: My child must eat enough of the right foods today—or slip behind in the race.

This group of common foods supplies ALL the essential food elements your child needs 365 days a year: Meat, milk, bread, fruit, yellow and green-leafed vegetables.

Thus, these are the foods you want to give your child.

Good for Growth and Energy

As shown in the chart, Wonder Bread is very valuable—because it helps your child grow bigger and stronger 8 ways.

Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs.

Growing children require energy for work and play.

Wonder Bread is a substantial energy food. More quickly converted into energy than fat. And better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Stronger, Bigger Bodies 8 Ways

The chart shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread. Serve Wonder Bread with meat, fish, eggs, milk, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables in a balanced diet to supply ALL the food elements your child must have for healthy growth.

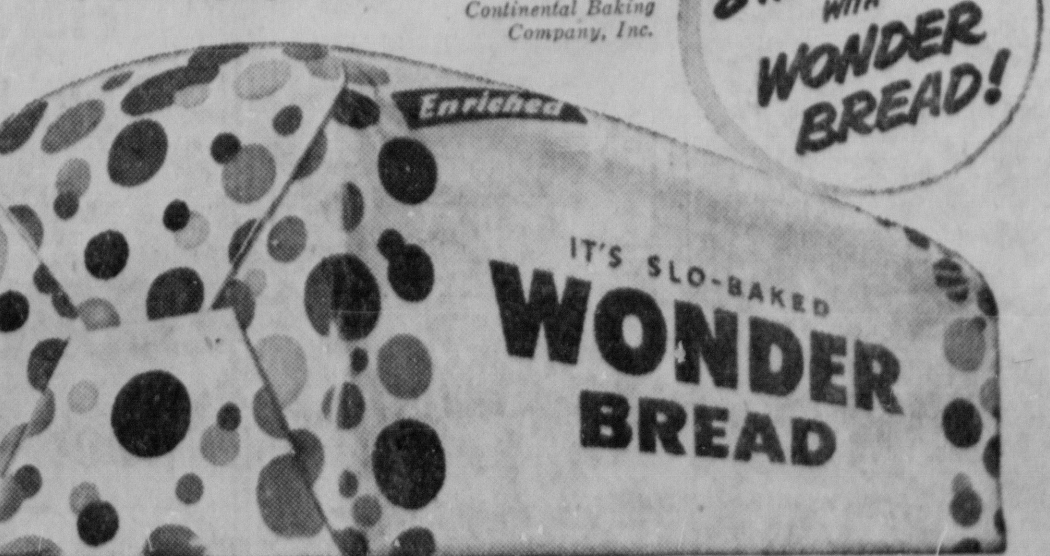

8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. You can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it. Because slow-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

42,000,000 Voters Expected to Ballot in Election Next Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—State officials and party leaders look for a total vote Nov. 7 of more than 42,000,000, or a 60 percent turnout among the estimated 70,000,000 men and women eligible to vote.

A 42,000,000 vote would be a record for a mid-term election. The previous highest was 37,304,380 in 1938. The last non-presidential election brought out only 35,874,568 in 1946.

The estimated registration of 69,954,478 is an all-time record. Only a few states keep state-wide registration totals, so the figure represents estimates in most cases. The vote estimate, too, involves much guess-work.

Figuring in that vote estimate are high registrations in many Northern and Western states, as well as the South where thousands of Negroes have qualified. Hot state and local races and referendum issues are involved, too.

In many states, officials predicted a vote exceeding the 1948 presidential total.

THE ACTUAL VOTE forecast, as compiled by the Associated Press from state sources, came out 42,235,632, the odd figure resulting from the inclusion of the official vote cast for House candidates in Maine Sept. 11.

That Maine vote, by the way, was higher for governor and House nominees than in the presidential year of 1948. Also, it came after what some GOP leaders described as a dull campaign.

Some political experts doubt the vote this year will go as high as 42,000,000 for the nation.

But the CIO Political Action committee says a vote of more than 40,000,000 is indicated if measured by one formula and nearly 48,000,000 by another. A Democratic national committee official figures the vote will be much higher than the 1938 off-year record if the turnout is normal in proportion to the growth in population.

The last presidential vote — 83,680 in 1948 — compared with a record of 49,820,312 in 1940.

THE ESTIMATED 1950 registration of 69,954,478 compares with 66,811,617 in 1948 and 59,660,656 in 1946. Here are some of the 1950 state figures:

New York—Official registration of 6,432,865, highest for a gubernatorial year. New York city, 2,806,448, a gain of 93,039 over 1946, but about 500,000 under 1948.

California—Official registration of 5,244,837, including 3,052,205 Democrats and 1,944,812 Republicans. This more than 1,000,000 edge for the Democrats would seem to make them shoe-ins, but the state usually goes Republican for state offices. Only one Democratic governor has been elected there since 1886.

Pennsylvania—Official registration of 4,925,240, including 2,913,101 Republicans and 1,051,223 Democrats. The 1948 total was 4,758,075. Ohio has an estimated 5,000,000 registered and a record vote of 3,500,000 is forecast by Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney. The present record is 3,376,239 in 1940.

Illinois has an estimated 5,200,000 eligible, or 100,000 more than in 1948. Massachusetts also has exceeded her 1948 figure by 115,000 with an estimated 2,600,000 qualified.

Oregon—Official registration of 751,270. Democrats outnumber the Republicans for the first time, with 378,337 to 361,158.

Penitentiary Escapee Is Free Only an Hour

BELLEFONTE, Oct. 30 (AP)—A 25-year-old Allegheny county prisoner escaped today from the Rockview State penitentiary, but was recaptured an hour later.

Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads identified the prisoner as Robert Ferguson, serving 2 to 16 years on a burglary conviction. He walked away from the feed mill and was found several hundred yards from the superintendent's home—about a half mile from the mill.

Pope Pius Decision to Define as Dogma Virgin Mary Assumption Wins Approval

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 30 (AP)—The decision of Pope Pius XII to proclaim as Catholic dogma that the Virgin Mary was "assumed body and soul into the glory of Heaven" received the approval today of 35 cardinals and more than 500 bishops from all parts of the world.

The proclamation will be issued by the Pontiff Wednesday in what will be the most spectacular and important ceremony of the 1950 holy year.

At a semi-private consistory, the Pope outlined the reasons for his decision to define the dogma, the first in nearly 100 years to be proclaimed by a pope.

His action, he told the assembly, had been preceded by much expert study. Then a circular letter was sent to all bishops of the church, asking their views.

"In a wonderful and unanimous chorus," the Pope said, "the voices of the pastors and of the faithful from every part of the world reached us professing the same faith and requesting the same thing as supremely desired by all. We judged then that there was no reason for further delay, and we decided to proceed to the definition of the dogma."

More than 8,000,000 lay Catholics have in the past added their pleas to those of thousands of clerics for pronouncement of the dogma. Although he had received widespread affirmation, the Pope said he also wanted the opinion of the assembled cardinals and bishops.

"IS IT YOUR GOOD pleasure, venerable brothers, that we proclaim and define as a dogma revealed by God, the bodily assumption of the blessed Virgin Mary into Heaven?" the Pontiff asked in Latin.

The prelates rose one by one to answer "Placet," it pleases, affirmative, or "Non Placet," negative. There was no announcement of the vote but Vatican sources said it could be assumed it was unanimously affirmative, as indicated by the Pope's added words:

"We greatly rejoice that all of you, as with one thought and one voice, assent to that which we ourselves think fitting and desire; because by this admirable agreement of the cardinals and bishops with the Roman Pontiff there emerges still more clearly what the holy church believes, teaches and desires in this matter."

The Pope expressed the hope that Mary would take "innumerable multitudes" under her protection and "led to that divine light the entire human race, which in many places is still enveloped in the darkness of error, tormented by cruel chastisements, and afflicted by grave dangers."

He added the hope, too, that she above all defend the Catholic church, "which in not a few parts of the world is either little known or is charged with false accusations and calumnies, or oppressed by unjust persecutions; and may she lead back to the unity of the church all the erring and the wayward."

Vishinsky Threatens Soviet Boycott of Lie If Re-elected by U.N.

Frank Gannett Ends Dewey Tie, Blasts 'Methods'

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Publisher Frank E. Gannett, once a confidant of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, broke publicly with him today and declared he would not vote for his re-election.

The rift between the governor and the prominent Republican publisher was aired in a statement in which Gannett said he objected to "methods used to get the (gubernatorial) nomination."

At the same time Gannett explained he will not vote Dewey democratic. He denied a report that he would order his papers to support Rep. Walter A. Lynch, Democratic candidate for governor.

Dewey declined immediate comment.

In a statement addressed to the editor of his own paper, the Rochester Times-Union, the publisher said:

"I personally will vote the Republican ticket except that I cannot conscientiously vote for the Republican candidate for governor, because of methods used to get the nomination."

"I HAVE SUPPORTED Mr. Dewey many times, but I have concluded that for the good of the Republican party, he should retire or be retired."

The statement was in strange contrast to the Dewey-Gannett relations of a few years ago. Gannett was a frequent luncheon guest at the New York executive mansion.

First public parting of the ways was apparent in 1948 when Gannett contributed $3000 to the Wisconsin campaign fund of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Dewey and MacArthur were being pushed for the Republican presidential nomination. Dewey eventually won a second consecutive nomination.

There were rumblings of difficulty between Gannett and Dewey several years earlier, however.

Gannett, who himself once had hopes of winning the GOP gubernatorial and presidential nominations, this year backed Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley for governor until Hanley withdrew in September.

Northwest Floods Lose Sting; 2 Dead

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—Flash floods, loosed on the Pacific Northwest by heavy-laden ocean clouds, dwindled away today.

They left behind at least two dead, plus uncounted property damage and several hundred persons temporarily homeless.

The danger appeared to be over, although weather forecasters warned that another ocean storm was heading toward the area.

This one, however, did not appear to be violent like its predecessors, and forecasters had hopes the area—hit by successive storms for five days—would escape further damage.

River experts said it would take a three-or-four-inch downpour—such as struck yesterday—to imperil the flood zones again.

More than four inches fell at some points yesterday.

Puerto Rican Police Slay Jail Break Ringleader

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 30 (AP)—Pedro Benejan, one of the leaders of the worst jail break in Puerto Rico's history, was killed today in a gun battle with police near Cayey, a town in the center of the island, authorities announced.

The break occurred on Saturday when 111 prisoners shot their way out of Rio Piedras prison about ten miles from San Juan. Thus far 47 have been recaptured. The prisoners stabbed a guard, grabbed his gun and took ammunition from the prison arsenal.

India Diplomatic Aid Sought by Tibet as Reds Near Capital

NEW DELHI, India, Oct. 30 (AP)—Tibet appealed today to India for diplomatic help as Chinese Communist invading troops were reported within 200 miles of Lhasa, capital of the isolated Himalayan mountain country.

The appeal was sent through India's representative in Lhasa. An Indian government spokesman said Tibet had asked specifically for the "continuance of the good offices which India has made available in the past."

He denied reports that the appeal included a request for the military aid or for putting the Chinese invasion before the United Nations.

The spokesman said the Red invaders had pushed to within 200 miles of Lhasa and defending Tibetan troops had abandoned Lho Dzong (Lolungchung) on Oct. 22 and Shoshado on Oct. 27, falling back to Pemba Go.

India already has sent a note to the Peking government expressing regret and surprise at the Communist order to invade Tibet but "no answer has been received by the Indian government."

MEANWHILE, Burmese disapproval of the invasion order was reflected in the Burmese press. Newspapers viewed it as a threat to other Asian nations.

The influential independent paper Hanthawaddy described the Chinese Communist claim of "liberation" of Tibet as "eyewash." It said Burma and India wanted assurance that Red China will not endanger their independence.

The English-language daily, the Burman, said Tibet's invasion would have a profound psychological and political effect on Asian minds, and if Red China persisted in "liberating" Tibet the Indian government would draw closer to the Western democracies.

Out of Jail and Out of Job

Frank Di Donatis, 26, with his wife, Mary and four-year-old son, Dennis, at home in Philadelphia after being released by an Indiana Superior court judge. He was jailed for driving an overloaded truck on Indiana highways. Mrs. Di Donatis revealed that her husband has quit his job and that with the pressure of impending bills, their situation has become desperate.

Trucker Quits Job; Family 'Flat Broke'

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP)—"Our house payment's due Wednesday, we're flat broke, and Frank has quit his job."

That, briefly, is how Mrs. Frank Di Donatis today summed up the plight of the family of Di Donatis, the truck driver sentenced to serve 1870 days in an Indiana jail in lieu of a $1870 fine for driving an overloaded truck.

The 26-year-old truck driver came home yesterday from Elkhart Ind., after spending eight days in Goshen jail in Elkhart county. Circuit Court Judge William E. Wider released the Philadelphian in his own recognizance pending his trial by jury.

And the first thing Di Donatis did when he got home was to tell the Aiello Brothers trucking firm he was through.

"They didn't even send me a cigarette while I was in jail."

His pretty wife, 24-year-old Mary, was trying to take things philosophically but she admitted "we've got lots of trouble."

She stopped scrubbing the floor, gathered up nine-month-old Robert in her arms, and sat down in one of the two chairs in the living room.

"WE JUST MOVED in here two months ago. We bought the house for $8800. Frank got a GI loan and we used his bonus for a down payment. We have to pay $65 a month, and it's due Wednesday. But we're flat broke."

Mary looked around the clean, but sparsely furnished room.

"We lived in a four-room apartment before we got this house, so we didn't have enough furniture to go around. We can't buy any now either... no money."

Four-year-old Dennis came in just then, gave his mother a quick kiss and said, "I'm hungry."

"Go get an apple, Dennis, run along now, mother's busy."

Dennis came back a minute later gnawing on a carrot.

Mary had no quarrel with either her husband's decision to quit his job, nor the truck company because they didn't pay the fine that would have released her husband from jail at once.

"They sent me $50 last week that was nice of them," she said.

But, Mary explained Frank had only $13 with him and she had to send him $43 to get home on.

"I guess something will turn up—Frank's looking for a job today."

High School Teacher Sought in Kidnaping Of Ex-Girl Student

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—A 35-year-old high school teacher was charged in a warrant today with kidnaping a 17-year-old girl, a former student in his classes.

Police said they had no trace of Lewis G. Daniel, a social studies teacher and former coach at Marsh Fork High school at Montcoal, Raleigh county, or of the girl, Ann Tabor, of Naoma.

Daniel was named in a warrant issued by Magistrate Forest Sevy on complaint of the girl's aunt. Daniel, a one-time Marshall college athlete, is divorced and the father of two children.

Miss Tabor, a student nurse at McMillan hospital at Charleston, is the daughter of Garrett Tabor, proprietor of the Tabor Lumber company at Naoma.

Her companions, student nurses Ruth Bulmer, 18, and Patsy Webb, 17, told this story:

The three girls were in a restaurant at Charleston's bus terminal when Daniel approached. He had taught all three of the girls in high school.

DANIEL OFFERED to take them back to the nurses' home. Reaching the home, Miss Bulmer and Miss Webb got out, but Daniel held Miss Tabor's arm, saying he wanted to talk with her.

"We walked on toward the house and were on the steps when we heard Ann scream for help," Miss Webb related. "We turned around and started back toward the car when the driver pulled away from the curb at high speed."

Harvey McMillan, administrator of the hospital, said he notified the girl's parents. He said he also called the principal of Marsh Fork High school, who told him Daniel had not appeared for his classes today.

Miss Tabor, who was graduated from school last May, enrolled as a student nurse on Sept. 17.

Hiked Gov't Authority Over Rent Controls Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods is expected to propose broader Federal rent control powers amending the local option control law which does not expire until next June 30.

This was indicated when Woods returned to Washington today from a series of conferences with local rent advisory boards throughout the country.

Pact Group Stymied On Reich Troops in West Europe Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Atlantic pact defense committee, apparently still unable to agree on the German rearmament question involved in setting up a Western European defense force, recessed tonight until tomorrow morning.

The group issued no communiqué. A Defense department spokesman said that the meeting would resume at 9:30 a. m. Pottstown time, tomorrow.

The defense chiefs had hoped to finish by tonight the drafting of a plan for creating a combined force in Europe. However, much of the first session on Saturday and again today seemed to have been snaggled by the disagreement over how to provide for German participation.

The foreign defense ministers and chief of the staff had planned to go to the Air Force Technical Research center at Wright-Patterson Air Force base, Ohio, tomorrow. However, this trip was set back until Friday.

THE ITINERARY arranged for the visiting military leaders also includes visits to the Army proving ground at Aberdeen, Md., on Wednesday and to the Naval proving grounds at Dahlgren, Va., on Thursday. It was indicated those two trips might be made as scheduled.

Earlier a delegate to the momentous military conference said that "solid progress" was being made toward setting up a common defense organization for Western Europe.

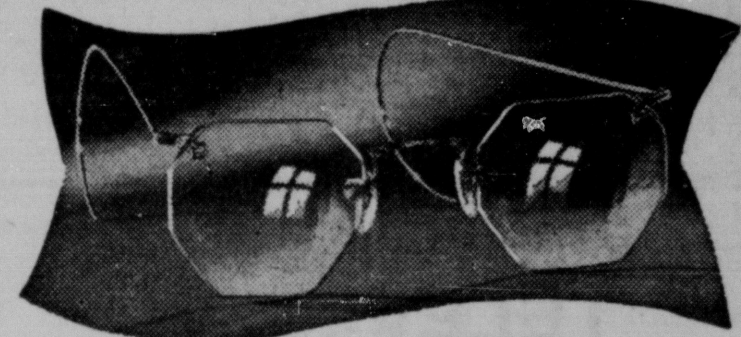

Gustaf VI Takes Swedish Throne, Succeeds Father

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 30 (AP)—King Gustaf VI ascended the ancient throne of Sweden today and proclaimed as his royal motto "Duty Above All." He pledged himself to adhere strictly to the constitution and to rule as a "righteous King and gracious father of the Swedish people by a legal, just and mild government."

The new King, 67, is the oldest ever to assume a European throne. His formal succession came this afternoon as he finished reading his royal oath in the cabinet council room of Stockholm palace.

Gustaf VI, looking pale and strained, hailed his father as the "Peace King." Gustaf V, who died yesterday, had kept the country neutral during two world wars. His reign of nearly 43 years was the longest in Swedish history. At 92 he also was Europe's oldest reigning monarch.

The King's oath was read by Socialist Premier Tage Erlander, in the presence of his cabinet and Sweden's hereditary princes.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

LONG, long ago before the "Cold War," the Soviet's Number One Composer, Prokofieff, conducted the symphony orchestra in Brussels. After the concert, the manager of the theatre produced a sketch of Prokofieff that a lady in the audience had dashed off during the performance. "She'd like you to autograph it for her," said the manager.

Prokofieff studied the sketch, and roared like a wounded tiger. "Never," he cried. "It's monstrous. It looks more like that fool Furtwaengler than me." "But Maestro," begged the manager, "She's one of our most important patronesses. Sign it to please me."

Prokofieff snatched back the sketch and pencilled across it, "A perfect likeness! Furtwaengler."

Orphan Anderson tells me this happened at a school in a northern Minnesota town. A strapping, healthy looking girl appeared to register for a course in English. The recording clerk asked, "Have you a hobby?" The girl replied, "No, ay ban single."

HARRY CASEY tells of the lady who went to visit her young married daughter. Her new son-in-law was of a different faith, and though she accompanied the couple to their church on Sunday, she resolutely refused to join in the singing of hymns. "Why didn't you sing with us?" complained the daughter. "I know how proud you are of your voice."

"I just couldn't bring myself to do it," confessed the mother, and then blurted out, "I'm on another network."

One afternoon during the war Herben Caen, the San Francisco columnist, noticed a taxi-driver in the lobby of a hotel dropping coin after coin into a pay telephone while a young GI talked heatedly into the mouthpiece. After the soldier had departed, the cabbie explained, "When I picked the kid up, he was lonely and dying to talk to his girl friend in Tennessee. So I got her on the line for him and kept pouring in quarters so he could have a good heart-to-heart with her." Caen said, "That's really a wonderful gesture on your part." "Forget it," said the cabbie. "I always keep a bunch of lead slugs in my back pocket for kids like that."

Approximately 1000 Children Participate In 'Ford Hallowe'en Parade; Prizes Given

Youthful mummies approximating 1000, fat and lean, tall and short, handsome, absurd and weird, strutted in a gay kiddies' Hallowe'en parade before several thousand spectators on the Main street of Royersford last night.

It was the first spectacle of its kind sponsored by Royersford Business Men's association.

Requiring 25 minutes to pass the judges' reviewing stand, the parade, which was more than a half mile long, was composed of a varied assortment of revelers.

Forming adjacent to Fifth avenue and Main street, the procession moved west on Main street to Second avenue, countermarched in the opposite direction and dispersed after selection of the prize winners. The committee distributed generous portions of candy bars to all children participating.

CHARLES OEHLERT was chairman of the general committee which arranged the parade. William Leiser, of the committee, served as announcer from the reviewing stand and called out the winning numbers. Members of the faculty of Royersford high school served as judges.

Winners stepped up to the reviewing stand and received their cash awards in silver dollars.

The 'Ford police car, with Police Chief Bryson Turner at the wheel, headed the parade, followed by Royersford high school band, which received much applause. Royersford Cub Pack 232, following the school band, received a special award of $10. Spring City high school band also was in the march and shared the plaudits of the on-lookers.

Holders of several of the prize winning numbers failed to call for their awards. The committee listed the following numbers: holders of which may apply to DICesare's bar.

Spring City Scouts, Leaders Entertained By Sponsoring Unit

Spring City Senior Scouts and leaders were entertained by their sponsor, the Chesmont Business and Professional Women's club, at the monthly dinner - meeting of the BPWC recently at Spring-Ford Country club.

Highlight of the program was the presence of Miss Barbara Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wallace, 485 Shurs Lane, Roxborough, who was one of four representatives of American Girl Scouts at the 1950 international meeting at the Chalet, Adelboden, Switzerland. Barbara showed slides of her trip and explained them so realistically that everyone felt they were traveling with her.

Miss Marion Vogenitz, club president, welcomed the members and guests and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Abram Briner, chairman of the Chesmont Scouts committee.

Mrs. Briner introduced Miss Naomi Bastuscheck, field director of the North district, Chester county; Mrs. Gurth Chambers, co-chairman of the North district; Mrs. Charles Ludwick, neighborhood chairman of Spring City; Mrs. James Mull, leader of the Senior Scouts, and her two assistants, Mrs. George Guss and Mrs. George Nichols.

Also introduced were Mary Ann Kulp, Troop 2, Pottstown; Shirley Ann Galambos, Senior Scout of Troop 73, Phoenixville, and her guests, Ajida Jergens, a former Girl Scout in her native country, Latvia, who is now living in Phoenixville.

At the meeting, $5 was donated to Royersford Community chest. Mrs. Earl Nelson, welfare chairman, urged all members to vote on Election Day, Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Accepted into the club as a new member were Mrs. Carl Berger, of the Philadelphia School system.

The budget was presented and approved after which Miss Wilma Huzzard gave her treasurer's report.

Three kinds of foxes—red, white and blue—are found on the Aleutian Islands.

Masked Junior Unit Has Chief Guessing

Upwards of 50 members attended the session masked, with the result Police Chief Turner, Eddie Hillman and the officers had a merry time guessing their identities. Group singing was improved with the return of Hillman at the piano.

Virtually the entire group arranged to take part in the kiddies' Hallowe'en parade in Royersford tonight as individuals, not as a group.

Performing in the amateur show were: Judy Brewer, song; Cordell Thren, solo; Mary Marchionne solo; Joyce Nolde, Sally Lowe and Jeralyn Hesh, trio, "Shine on Harvest Moon;" Susan Summers and Rose chionne, song; Louise Roessler, solo; Donna and Bonnie Shaner, sister duet; Judy Buckwalter and Gerry Eller, duet, "Cruising Down the River;" Jane Lewis, song; Joann Johnson, demonstration of baton twirling with piano accompaniment. Winners were Josephine Marchionne and Joan Johnson.

Trojan Win: Monument to Scouting

FOOTBALL, as you may have noticed, long has been altered from a mere mingling of brawn to a sparring of wits, wiles, and in some cases, pure and simple espionage.

Pottstown High's underground was showing Saturday on Franklin field when the Trojans almost contemptuously dumped unbeaten Berwyn on its ear.

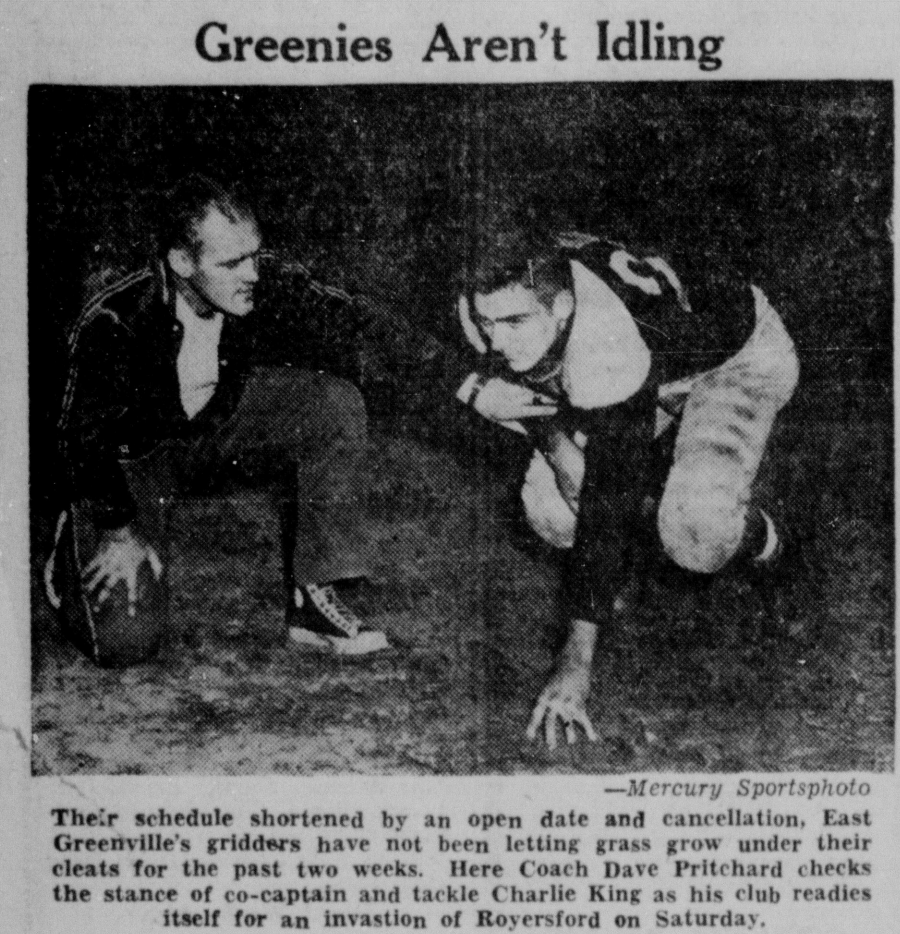

Had the gladiators adjourned before gametime to the classrooms of nearby Junior High and been quizzed on Berwyn plays, it is doubtful that the Berwyns would have led the class.

Trojan coaches had the foe under microscope on two occasions. Assistant Coach Bill McCabe, one of the more observant scouts in the craft, checked the Bulldogs in their 20-0 stampede of Upper Merion. Head Coach Herb Meyers double-checked them as they were brushing Coatesville, 7-0.

What the two gentlemen saw was a good running team that could butcher you at the flanks, hamburger your middle and present nothing more exciting than a pestiferous overhead game.

ON SATURDAY, after a week of indoctrination, the Trojans passed their final exam with an ease that amazed even their most hopeful instructors.

When the Berwyns tried to give the locals the old run around,

Their schedule shortened by an open date and cancellation, East Greenville's gridders have not been letting grass grow under their cleats for the past two weeks. Here Coach Dave Pritchard checks the stance of co-captain and tackle Charlie King as his club readies itself for an invasion of Royersford on Saturday.

Perk Crown Up for Grabs As Fords, Greenies Clash

The titans of the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley league collide Saturday afternoon at Royersford and if ever a toss-up contest was waged, this one is it.

Both clubs, Royersford's classy Eagles and the trip-hammer Greenies of East Greenville, have strung together unbeaten marks and both have climbed into a driver's seat built strictly for one.

The classic usurps much of the Perk spotlight, but two other conference tilts are on tap, while still two more league members will be active on non-league grids.

West Pottsgrove, elated over its first grid win in two years, seeks its second Little Four conquest when it hosts for Collegeville, North Coventry, another Little Four title aspirant, visits Schwenkville; and outside the league it will be Boyertown at Muhlenberg and Spring City at Wilson of West Lawn.

BOTH THE GREENIES and Eagles have loped through league foes with negligible trouble, each winning four times within the conference East Greenville thumped Spring City, 25-12, and the Fords nicked Boyertown, 13-6, in Big Four play.

But the real measuring rod has been the success of the colossi against outside opposition. Coach Dave Pritchard's Greenies belted Quakertown, 13-7, in an opener to register an all-winning five-game record to date.

Royersford stacked its deck against heavier odds and was a winner, 20-19 against slick Shillington and 38-0 against Sellersville-Perkasie the past week for a seasonal 6-0 log.

Since both teams would come into this affair with 6-0 logs had not the Greenies missed a game against Pennsburg when the latter school canceled football.

BROKEN DOWN into the personnel brackets, the game shapes up as a duel between the rock-solid veteran Greenie line with scoring sensation Mike Duka operating in his customary high gear and Royersford's two fine backfields.

Area fans are keenly interested in the fracas as are several college ivory hunters who want to know "just how good is Duka?"

Whereas Royersford can concentrate its attention upon shackling Duka and be pretty close to right, East Greenville faces the task of blunting not one, not two, but eight talented Ford backs. That is they had Earl Decker, Mike Kriczky, Sam Green and Stan Chaplin to pick out of their teeth. When little Scat Collins made as to peek through the middle, he became the unhappy object of Greenie's attention.

And when the Berwyns passed, just as expected, it was only a pimple on the defensive complexion of the Trojan game.

Meyers and his lieutenants had a hunch that a bottled Berwyn team could be cashed for a beaten Berwyn team, despite the fact that defensive figures proved the visitors a handy crew with the silencer themselves. Heretofore, the Bulldog defense had been the product of a grinding offense that kept opponents busy just getting out of the way.

Once collared, the Berwyn team was as submissive as any the Trojans had faced, and the hunch had a happy denouement.

OF COURSE, the Trojans could have spent the week at Berwyn, studying the Bulldog plans under the originator himself, and never would have wrought the upset had they not played football they never had before.

There was a deal of new spark in the PHS aggregation on Saturday. Seniors, who obviously had decided to coast to a mediocre swan season, suddenly decided that they were not as bad as they seemed. Sophomores and juniors, many of them disillusioned by the nonchalance of their upper-classmen, were afflicted with the same sudden urge.

It was a thing of beauty, and for Meyers, a joy forever.

On Friday night, the Pottstown coach had quietly imparted the knowledge to his ballplayers that they were not half the pansies that they suspected. He flatly stated that several of their number had fallen down on the job and that the cleaver would fall if it happened again.

Meyers arranged for moving pictures to be taken at the game and told his men that the film would be reviewed 11 times with a different starter under observation each tip. Slackers would be eliminated after fair trial.

Evidently, the strategy was letter perfect. Trojans worked like Trojans at their several tasks and many of them did overtime duty. Among those afield for the entire 48 minutes were tackles Harry Hausmann and Bob Sutton, guard Herbie White, end Paul Duttenhofer, and backs Green and Stan Chaplin.

Ironically, the picture threat never developed . . . nor did the pictures. A sub cameraman fouled the works and drew a total blank. But Meyers, while aware of several mistakes, will not fret unduly. Winners never do.

UPCOMING THIS week is a Coatesville High team that should be bounding like a souped-up golf ball. The past Friday night the Red Raiders tumbled to a 35-0 licking at the hands of a so-so West Chester team.

It was the third Raider loss in seven games, but as the remaining four foes will attest, this Coatesville team, like its predecessors, is no sheer pushover. Germantown Wilmington, Bridgeport and Abington were left groping in the Raider wake before the roof fell in at Coatesville.

On records alone, the Raiders rate no worse than even up. Give them the benefit of resiliency and Pottstown the stigma of a post-victory letdown, and you have a whooping battle on tap.

STRAY SLANTS . . . An unfortunate and uncalled for episode developed in the Saturday contest that could have stripped the Trojans of their victory for want of guidance . . . Referee Carson Thompson, after having pulled a "skull" on a penalty play and being duly reminded by line coach Morris Grigg, proceeded to eject Grigg from the bench . . . Nonplussed, Grigg exited as ordered and without protest . . . later Thompson apologized to Meyers for having taken away his only lieutenant on the field, explaining that he had taken Grigg for "just a spectator" . . . an efficient referee should acquaint himself with the respective mentors, and should wear a thicker skin, especially if subject to mental lapses . . . A rousing vote of approval is due Arien Saylor, who has directed the Junior High band into one of the smoothest and most mellow organizations we've heard all year.

Sportsmen of 25 Counties Seek Suspension of 2-Day Doe Season

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30 (AP) — Sportsmen in 25 counties are seeking local suspension of the Nov. 27-28 doe season in Pennsylvania.

The deadline for filing suspension petitions was last Friday.

Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the State Game commission, today saw the large number of suspension petitions as a threat to the future of the state's deer herd.

"It will result in a serious setback in the wise management of the deer herd," he declared, adding:

"When you get abrogation of this kind, it results in too much gunning pressure in some counties and none in the closed counties."

He explained that the suspension petitions will serve in effect to draw hunters from closed counties to the counties remaining open.

The game commission fixed the two-day doe season to cut down what it termed a dangerous overpopulation of deer in the state. It acted after receiving a flood of complaints by farmers of crop damage by deer.

The establishment of the two-day season aroused a storm of controversy among sportsmen. The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs already has gone on record against the action.

Knitters Ready for MLL Opener With Norristown

Manager Jack Pout last night announced a tentative starting lineup for his Pottstown Knitters, who make their Main Line league debut tomorrow night at Norristown.

Scheduled for opening whistle nods are Dick Bender, Carlos Trolinger, Claude Reinhart, Bruce Bernhart and John Henry. Bill Mimsmer, steady overhead set shot artist, could make the whistle call if his dislocated finger comes around before the contest.

Foot pointed out that starting lineups will mean little on the Knitter squad, however. He has gathered the cream of the local cage crop and plans to utilize the entire gathering in every contest.

Carded for extensive action are Chuck Klaus, Joe Pollick, Earl Strom, Josh Collins and Hen Stofko.

In Norristown, the Knitters will be getting a stern test on their maiden voyage. Paced by Dick De-wees and Joe Gillingier, the high-powered Norristown unit copped the conference crown in 1949. They are highly favored to repeat this year and will be ready to launch a program in that direction tomorrow.

The league actually got underway last night when Norberth outlasted Haverford, 56-54, at Lower Merion.

Warriors Blast Knicks by 80-65

ALLENSTOWN, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors, scoring 33 points in the final quarter, tonight defeated the New York Knickerbockers 80 to 65 in a National Basketball Association exhibition before 3000.

Paul Arizin, rookie from Villanova, paced the Warrior attack with 12 points while Connie Simmons and Vince Boryla shared scoring honors for the Knicks with 11 each.

When Northwestern meets Navy on the football field this season it will mark the first game between the two schools.

BOOSTERS CLUB SETS MEETING

An important meeting of the Pottstown Boosters' Club has been set Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the High School gym. It was announced last night by President Chuck Wiley.

At the meeting, a check will be made of memberships and funds, committees will be appointed, and motion pictures of Pottstown High football games will be shown.

CAROLINA COLLEGIAN FORECASTER WINNER

The Mercury Football Forecasters contest gets tougher by the week. This trip, it required a college education, or portion of same to top the field in another weekend of weird upsets.

The victor and new expert is Art Freimuth, who lists his home address as the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house on the campus of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Freimuth was one of two selectors to name eight of ten winners, missing only on a pair of tie ball games.

To take down top prize, however, Freimuth had to come closer on naming correct scores than second place winner John Yuros of 68 S. Charlotte street.

Freimuth is entitled to four free tickets to the Pottstown High contest with Coatesville Saturday and Yuros gets two free Saturdays to the

Boyertown JVs Nip 6ths, 14-13 In Last Quarter

Boyertown's Junior High Jayvees rushed to 14 points in the final quarter yesterday at the Far fields to pin a 14-13 defeat on Hill's Sixths in a thrilling duel.

Hill was riding a comfortable 13-point lead when the rafters gave way. Early in the final period the Sixths were punting away from their own 40 when the foot was blocked and recovered by Boyertown on the Hill 30. Hartman passed from there to Dick Reagan for the TD and Bill Kehl slashed right tackle for the point, narrowing the gap.

With three minutes remaining in the game, Hill's Bob Levering fumbled and Bill Wolfrom scooped up the ball on the Hill 13 and raced it over. Again Kehl rushed, this time around right end, for the necessary point.

Hill scored in the second period on a 15-yard pass play. Don Spillman to Bill Colgate, and again in the third round after recovering a kickoff fumble at the Boyertown 26. A pass gained ten yards, then Levering smashed tackle for 15 TD yards. The same laddie plunged for the point.

It was the Sixths' fourth straight loss and Boyertown's sixth win of the year.

WHEN you see this gleaming GMC emblem on a rugged new truck, you know its owner is sitting pretty for years to come. For GMC's have a time-established reputation for long service with low maintenance cost—and with minimum down time for repairs.

That's because every GMC is a real truck—truck-built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturers of commercial vehicles. Every unit of every GMC, from grille to tail gate, is engineered for trucking service!

To find quick proof of this, just compare a GMC with any other truck before you buy. Compare engine, frame, transmission; compare cab, axles, and springs—see how much extra value you get.

Or count how many new GMC's you see on the road—far more today than ever before. Then see your GMC dealer and let him give you the inside story that explains why so many cost-wise operators are switching to GMC's because experience proves them best in the long haul!

Iowa "Couldn't Do Anything Right;"
Ohio Mentor "Hated That Big Total"

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Old Professor was late again as he arrived to conduct the Monday morning class of football coaches. He was getting less and less reliable.

Old Professor—Sorry, gentlemen, sorry. Don't know what's wrong with me. They used to be able to count on me all the time. In fact, I became known as The Count. Now I'm the lost count, I guess.

Leonard Raffensberger, Iowa—Me too, Professor. I lost count of the score in our game. We're not as bad as that 83-21 score would indicate, and Ohio State isn't that good. It was one of those days when we couldn't do anything right, and Ohio State is too fine a team to make mistakes against.

Wes Fesler, Ohio State—You might not believe it, Professor, but nobody hates that big total more than I. But what could I do? You can't kick on first or second down, or you're insulting the other team. You can't tell a boy to go in and not play his best, or to drop passes.

Old Professor—How true, how true. You can get in trouble by having a drop too much. Mr. Cherry, why are you humming "That's My Baby?"

Blair Cherry, Texas—My quarterback, Ben Tompkins, is my baby. He came of age Saturday. He's arrived. He makes a good coach of me. Rice was flat, and we got the breaks and probably played over our heads. SMU probably will run us out of the park.

Jess Neely, Rice—Tompkins had a good day and handled the ball well. There was not a great deal wrong with Texas Saturday.

Old Professor—Mr. Glassford, you look sharp this morning.

Bill Glassford, Nebraska—Yes sir. And our team was sharp Saturday. When you come from a 12-point deficit against a team like Kansas you've got to be sharp. My boys played their best game. Kansas was the best team we've faced and that includes Indiana, Minnesota, Colorado and Penn State.

Jules Sikes, Kansas—Bobby Reynolds is the greatest halfback we've ever faced although Nick Adduci was the boy who killed us off. Just a case of trying to stop Reynolds and Adduci putting the whammy on us.

OLD PROFESSOR—I take it Bobby just keeps bob-bob-bobbing along. What, no ears, Mr. Dodd? Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech—No sir. I'm not blue. We were outclassed, that's all. We did as well as we could with what we had on the field and I'm proud of my boys.

"Bear" Bryant, Kentucky—Our boys played a great game and Bob Gain and Babe Parilli were exceptionally good. Counting on a bowl? Golly, we're just struggling along.

Old Professor—Mr. Sanders, are you humming too? What are you fellows doing? Playing musical chairs? Sound like you're humming "Roamin' in the Gloamin'."

Red Sanders, ULCA—I was just thinking of how our safety man, Joe Sabol, was roamin' out there and hauling down Purdue passes like an outfielder Saturday. I told my team John Kerestes would give more trouble than any other back we've seen this year, and he was borne out. Marleski played his best game for us.

Stu Holcomb, Purdue—Purdue played its second-best game of the year and was beaten by a very good football team. And once again our defensive mistakes were costly.

Old Professor—Mr. Howard, quit rubbing your hands.

Frank Howard, Clemson—ah, who wouldn't? We played a fine game, and our defense was the greatest I have seen this year. Our sophs—Dreher Gaskins, Jim Shirley, Frank Kennedy and Billy Hair—came through when we really needed them. It was one of the best, if not the best game we have played.

Peahead Walker, Wake Forest—I agree with Howard—Clemson has a great team.

OLD PROFESSOR—Both of you seem to be feeling great today.

Wallace Wade, Duke—Speaking of great, we had a great game Saturday. Maryland is the best team we've met. Simply had too much manpower for us. I will say, though, that Billy Cox is the greatest passer I've ever coached.

Old Professor—Sorry Mr. Tatum isn't here among you other "great" men. I regret that our time is up. Or maybe I should say I greatly regret our great time is up. See you next week, gentlemen. Good day.

pro and amateur swimmers here is one of the most impressive in the tournament's 48-year history. Among the professionals, there are such threats as Clayton Hafner, Johnny Palmer, Jim Turnesa, Bob Hamilton, Chandler Harper, Joe Kirkwood Jr., Claude Harmon and Jack Burke, who trimmed slammer Snead in this year's PGA championship.

And the amateur contingent can't be overlooked. It boasts such names as Sam Urzetta, the current National champion, Frank Stranahan, Dick Chapman, Jim McHale, William Campbell and Ted Bishop. Urzetta, who beat Stranahan in the National Amateur finals last Summer, will be making his first appearance in a major open tournament.

Exactly 50 open places were filled when the day's last three-some saw the two remaining positions clinched. This shut out 14 hopefuls at 77 who would have made the grade. Most prominent of those disappointed a stroke away was Wally Ulrich, Austin, Minn., pro.

LEADING the qualifying amateurs was A. B. Mayer of Old Greenwich, Conn., father of young pro Dick Mayer, who turned in a 37-36-73.

A prominent casualty was amateur Bobby Knowles, New England champion who winters in Aiken, S. C. He needed 78.

Pinehurst's No. 2 course, stretching 6952 yards along sundrenched fairways and lightning-fast greens, presented a tempestuous temperature to the qualifying round for non-invited entries today. Because of the big field, officials increased from 30 to 50 the places for the non-invited entries in the tournament proper starting tomorrow. The low 50 from today's field of 135 will be joined tomorrow by 60 who were not required to qualify.

Eighteen-hole rounds for the next four days will decide the $7500 event, which carries 1500 top money.

Snead, the year's top money winner from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., automatically fell into the role as favorite. His 274 here last year was only three strokes beyond the tournament record.

This year's formidable list of

Gavilan is upset

By Gene Hairston

SCRANTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gene "Silent" Hairston, 153, of New York, scored his second major upset in Scranton in two months tonight when he won a disputed ten-round split decision from Kid Gavilan, 150, of Havana, at the Armory.

The judges disagreed and Referee Johnny Kelly's 6-2-2 vote decided the match. One judge gave Hairston eight rounds and Gavilan two, while the other gave Gavilan six rounds, Hairston three and called one even.

It was a rough, slugfests match all the way. A crowd of about 3000 paid between $10.00 and $12.00 at the gate. Hairston was a sentimental favorite with the crowd throughout the match because of his good showing against Sala, who had been beaten only once before he met Hairston.

Binghamton Ace Cracks Eastern Loop RBI Mark

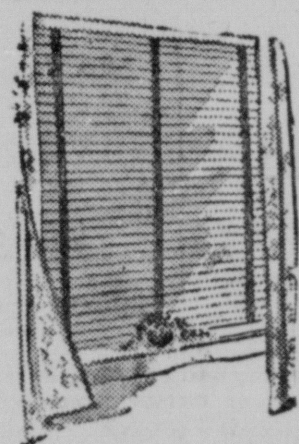

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 30 (AP)—Binghamton's first baseman, Dale Long, set a new Eastern league record last season with 134 runs batted in.

President Thomas H. Richardson released official batting figures today that showed Long broke the old record set by Ken Strong of Hazleton in 1930. Strong drove in 130 runs that year.

Long also led the Class A league in home runs with 27.

George Crowe of Hartford had the league's best batting average. The Negro first baseman, who was voted the league's most valuable player, batted .333.

Penn vs Army

Loser to Both, Little Declines to Forecast

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Lou Little, whose Columbia team lost to Army and Penn by identical 34-0 scores, declined today to predict the outcome of the big game Saturday in Philadelphia, but he said: "You can't pick against Army."

The balding, bespectacled Lions coach compared the Black Knights and the Quakers at the weekly meeting of New York football writers.

"I leaned a little bit toward Penn until I read statistics of the Navy game," he said. "Navy piled up 371 yards on Penn. Giving up yards like that against Army would be disastrous."

Little said Penn had no running back to compare with Al Pollard, the Cadets' piston-legged Sophomore from California. At the same time he rated Francis (Reds) Bagnell of Penn a better passer than Army's Bob Black.

"Bagnell will kill you on the long ones," he added.

Little said Columbia contained Army's running attack better than it was able to hold the Penn ground gainers. Also, he declared, the Lions moved the ball better against the Cadets.

BUT PENN'S passing gave us much more trouble," he added, "and I think this Alan Corbo of Penn is a better straightaway runner than Army's Gil Stephenson."

Little praised both the Army and Penn lines as "magnificent mobile units—they are fast and agile and can move."

"Neither one has a big, ponderous line," he said. "There are no 240-pound slew foots in the bunch."

Maj. Joel Stephens, who has coached Penn the past four years for Army, called the present Quakers "the best Penn team I've ever seen."

"They have more speed," he told the writers. "They are trimmer—that is, they are lean and hungry and they have the finest morale and spirit I've ever seen."

"I think Bagnell is the guy who instills it in them. He is not only a great runner. He is a great leader, too, and I think the most valuable man to his team than any in the country. That includes Chuck Ortman of Michigan, or any of them."

Quite a Lot of Shoes to Fill

Coach Ken Loeffler of LaSalle college, Philadelphia, casts a longing look at the shoes left by six departing veterans from his 1949-50 cage team, a team which won 21 out of 25 games.

Senate Group Told How War-Useful Copper Got to Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Senators heard today how more than 3,500,000 pounds of war-useful copper was shuttled around the world from Japan to New York to Communist China before the trade was choked off the past July.

Another deal sent more than 12,000 steel boiler tubes to China from the British Occupied Zone of Germany. All the transactions were handled by American export firms.

Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), chairman of a Senate Commerce subcommittee which took the testimony, declared that the Chinese Communists had "out-smarted and outmaneuvered" American officials in procuring the copper.

The two U. S. exporters who handled the shipments testified, however, that the copper was purchased and transshipped legally. Although the export of U. S.-produced copper to Communist-controlled areas has been banned since July, 1949, controls tightening up in sale of the Japanese copper were not instituted until July of this year.

O'Connor's subcommittee is investigating shipments of oil, metals and other strategic materials to the Chinese Communists.

Before the committee today were Walter Spitzer, important manager of the Kane Import company, and Thomas A. Lynch, manager of the American Industrial Products company, both of New York City.

Spitzer testified that his firm, on five separate occasions, bought Japanese copper from other firms and shipped it from New York to China on ships of the Isbrandtsen line. Four of the five lots of 99.9 percent pure copper already were aboard Isbrandtsen ships at the time of the purchase.

The shipments, totalling 3,551,051 pounds, all went to the North China Import corporation. O'Connor said that corporation was Communist controlled.

Spitzer's company also handled the deal which sent the boiler tubes from Germany to Communist China.

LYNCH TESTIFIED that he sold a total of 356,000 pounds of copper to two Chinese firms—the China Material corporation, of Tientsin, last March, and the North China Import corporation last April. Lynch said he got the metal from the Metal Trades corporation. The first shipment, he explained, was brought to New York by the Isbrandtsen line's Flying Arrow, and sent to China on the Isbrandtsen's Brooklyn Heights. Details of the second shipment were not given.

Spitzer testified that his firm bought the copper from Metal Traders, incorporated, the Overseas Metal and Ore company, and the Avtron Metals company of New York City.

Chairman O'Connor, addressing officials of the Commerce department's Office of International Trade (OIT), said he was unable to understand why it took American officials so long to halt the shipments.

James L. Peely, chief of OIT's Metals and Mineral Control division, said the transaction took place before he took over direction of the section. Ted Thau, counsel for the enforcement section of OIT, said the trade office consulted with officials of SCAP (Supreme Command of Allied Powers at Tokyo) last March as soon as it was learned that Japanese copper was being shipped in transit through U. S. ports to Japan.

He said that both SCAP and OIT began drawing up new rules and that stricter control were instituted by the two organizations in June and July respectively.

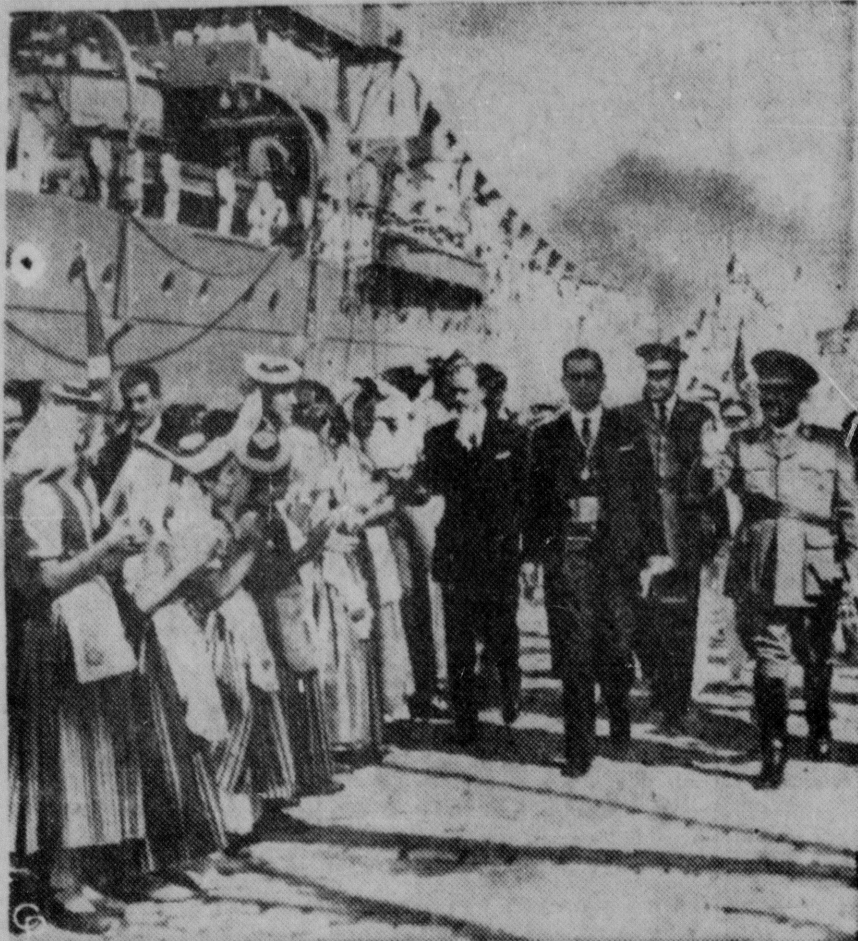

NATHAN OSTROFF, general counsel for the OIT, said it wouldn't have done any good for the United States alone to have imposed tight intransit controls on such shipments. Without parallel action by other nations, he said, the trade merely would have been diverted to other ports.

Exporter Spitzer told the committee that he checked with the U. S. Customs service on each of the five copper orders he handled and was informed it was "in order to ship the material in transit or in bond." He said he hoped the hearings would produce some "very clear results that will govern all of our exports."

Spitzer said he bought the steel boiler tubes for the North China Import corporation and other customers in Communist China.

Part of these were shipped to China by way of New York, he said.

Franco Pays Visit to Santa Cruz

Attired in colorful costumes, a score of native girls cheer Generalissimo Francisco Franco (right) as he arrives at Santa Cruz de Tenerife, Canary Islands, for his first visit since the Spanish Civil War. It was from Santa Cruz that Franco set out more than fourteen years ago on the adventure that made him the supreme power in Spain.

Atom Bomb Components Have Great Value Even If Never Used for War, Dean Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy commission said today America's highly expensive atom bombs may be useful even if they are never exploded.

Dean said the atomic metal—uranium and plutonium—can be withdrawn from weapons and converted to supply power "much more valuable than the gold at Fort Knox."

Fort Knox in Kentucky is the major repository of U. S. gold reserves now estimated at more than $23,000,000,000.

Dean explained that the uranium and plutonium used in A-bombs "don't deteriorate," and he declared:

"The only thing wasted would be the work of the people who had been engaged in the fabrication of exterior parts of the bombs." The explosive materials themselves, he said, would be used as fuel to produce power for peacetime purposes.

Dean also reported that the United States is still "well ahead" of Russia in the development of the atomic bomb, but he said it would be "foolish to minimize the Russian achievement."

As for the hydrogen bomb, on which President Truman gave the go-ahead signal last Winter, Dean said the United States has not yet "completed our determination" whether it is feasible.

THE AEC CHAIRMAN expressed his views in a copyrighted interview published by the magazine U. S. News and World Report, in which he made these further points:

1. There is "no indication" that an atomic explosion might set off chain reactions which could destroy the world.
2. Within ten years, several other countries—including small nations—may have developed their own atomic weapons "whether we like it or not."
3. American development of atomic power for peacetime purposes may be expected in about 15 years, but "we are moving much faster" on nuclear power for submarines and surface ships. That may come in "a few years," Dean said.

This country is also working hard on atomic power for airplanes and has cut down the requirements for lead-plate shielding to guard against dangerous radiation from atomic fuel.

"But I would say that the ship would come ahead of the airplane (in using atomic power)," he predicted.

Dean, a 44-year-old lawyer who took over the AEC chairmanship last July 11, scoffed at Russia's claims of having used atomic energy to move mountains and change the courses of rivers.

He said if the Soviets had actually accomplished such a feat, they would have documented their claims for propaganda purposes.
